

Moonmen's 'yes' amazes Huron Celebration will rival centennial

By HENRY CANTIN

New Boston's first police and fireman field day parade Sept. 11 will be an unforgettable one for Huron Township administrative officials and residents, and a historic event.

Through the untiring efforts of Police Chief Christopher Maciolek and Mrs. Mary Lou Carey, Huron Township clerk, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) has approved the appearance of the Apollo 14 Astronauts in New Boston and their participation in the parade and review stand address.

Moonwalkers Col. David R. Scott and Lt. Col.

James B. Irwin and Major Alfred M. Worden, who piloted the waiting command module "Endeavour," will arrive in New Boston at 11 a.m.

They are scheduled to speak to the youth of the area between 11:30 a.m. and 12 noon.

The astronauts will also speak at the Economic Club, Detroit on Friday, Sept. 10, and are a featured highlight at the National Air Show at Willow Run Airport Sept. 11.

The consent of NASA in permitting the three famed astronauts to make an appearance in New Boston and take part in the parade was an amazing surprise to both Chief Maciolek and Mrs. Carey.

The chief's idea of staging a police and fireman field day parade aimed at bringing about closer and better relations and communications with township youth has now mushroomed into what is expected to be the biggest parade and event in the history of the township of approximately 8,000 residents.

The two officials who initiated the invitation for the astronauts are completely amazed at their acceptance.

The township is expecting from 40,000 to 50,000 persons to come and see the astronauts. Officials expect larger crowds and greater interest than shown during the township's Centennial Parade and celebration in 1967.

Ramada Inn license request receives further council delay

By HENRY CANTIN

Romulus City Council has deferred until the third Thursday in September formal action on a request for a Class C Liquor License made by the new Ramada Inn of Romulus, located at 8270

Wickham Rd., near the Metropolitan Airport.

An earnest plea for quick approval of the license made by Ramada Inn officials and its counselor was unsuccessful.

Council members deferred official action to permit consideration and discussion of the request along with other applicants for six Class C Liquor Licenses made available to Romulus by the Michigan Liquor Control Commission.

An increase in the population of Romulus entitled the city to six new and additional Class C licenses. There are currently nine in the community.

The number of applicants seeking the licenses now totaled 57. The list of applications contained individuals who have filed more than two years ago.

Ramada Inn's request was filed almost a year ago.

B.B. Moshier, attorney for the Ramada Inn, urged city council to make a decision one way or other as soon as possible.

The Ramada Inn opened Aug. 22 but not entirely due to liquor license problem. Grand opening ceremonies await the council's decision.

Mike W. Kabat, general manager of the Ramada Inn told council that the liquor license is an integral part of the new $4 million dollar Ramada Inn's operations.

He explained the concept of the operations and pointed out the Ramada Inn employs 75 persons, about 50 percent Romulus residents.

He added the city would benefit from the conventions and group business at Ramada Inn and cited that Ramada Inn is not in competition with small bars or other Class C Licenses.

A motion made by Councilman William M. Oakley, who was supported by Councilman Fred Junior Block, to grant Ramada Inn a Class C License was tabled until Sept. 16 by a motion made by Councilman Ellis T. Pennington, who was supported by Councilman Brooker R. Edwards.

Council President Jimmie Raspberry in commenting on the request said that the city has available six Class C licenses. Granting the licenses is a decision that "we all seven councilman have to make."

Moshier said, "But to let a man hang on tender hooks is not right. It has been almost a year now. If we have to go and buy one, we may have to. It is urgent now. If council says no then we turn conventions away to go somewhere else."

Councilman Edmund W. Bizek, in speaking against Oakley's motion to grant the license said:

"I am not against the Ramada Inn. I am guilty as much as other council members. We have never sat down to consider these applications. In all honesty I don't think we should make a decision now. We never discuss the distribution of the licenses. I think we should."

Councilman Ellis T. Pennington said, "I feel like

Land acquisition program begins phase one of renewal

The first property acquisitions in Romulus' initial Urban Renewal Program have been approved by Romulus City Council.

The acquisition program, which involves the purchase of the first 90 pieces of property, marks the actual beginning of Phase One of the community's urban renewal and redevelopment program.

Urban Renewal Director George Wilhelm in requesting council's approval reported that the initial acquisition program will involve 90 pieces out of 350 pieces located in the Phase One area.

Romulus' Urban Renewal Program which is scheduled over the next several years, is located in the Beverly-Wayne Roads area. The entire UR program involves 575 acres and Phase One contains 175 acres.

The council also approved an agreement with John E. Young of the law firm of Elson, Young & O'Rourke of Detroit, city counselors, for acquisition closing and all legal work involved in conduct of the urban Renewal Project for the total sum of $28,000 over the scheduled four years of the contract.

Wilhelmi reported that the two independent appraisals have been made on the properties to be acquired. One was done in 1968 and the second conducted in 1970. Appraisals were reviewed by a third appraiser (reviewer) under contract by the local UR office.

Under UR rules of procedure, Wilhelmi is authorized to prepare, execute and submit to city council for its approval. A Proclaimer Certificate relative to establishment of fair market

Permanent head sought for Romulus recreation

A recommendation by the Romulus Recreation Commission that Mrs. Marie DeBuysscher of 37839 Westvale, Romulus, be appointed full time recreation director for the City of Romulus failed to get city council approval.

Mrs. DeBuysscher had been serving as summer recreation director at a salary of $125 per week.

DuWayne Martin, chairman of the Romulus recreation commission, in asking for the appointment of a full time recreation director told council that the summer recreation program was an outstanding one.

The city has made tremendous strides in setting up a community recreation program. Employment was given to number of boys and girls who probably couldn't get jobs. A considerable number of Romulus youth and adults participated in the summer program.

He added that the commission is planning a full recreation program just as great as the summer program. He pointed out that such a program needs day by day guidance, even hour by hour. The population growth of Romulus requires a full time director.

Martin reported that his recommendation on the appointment of Mrs. DeBuysscher as full time director had the support of Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael. He recommended an annual salary of $9,500 for the post.

Council President Jimmie Raspberry said that during recent sessions on fixing this year's recreation commission's budget, the commission was to advertise for a full time director and "now the commission is asking us to approve an appointment when instructions to advertise was not adhere to."

Martin said that the recommended appointment of Mrs. DeBuysscher was a necessity. He disclosed that he received 10 referrals from outside sources and that salaries requested by them were not within the commission's budgeted salary for the post.

The city approved $34,000 plus for all commission salaries and wages for the current fiscal year.

Mrs. DeBuysscher, who was highly commended by the commission and some members of council for the outstanding job she performed on the summer recreation program, stated that she was agreeable to take over as the full time recreation director but had to know council's decision as soon as possible.

Mrs. DeBuysscher has been employed as school bus driver for Romulus Community Schools for the last eight years and is to return at the start of school unless council decides otherwise.

She reported that she spent as much as 55 to 70 hours a week on the director of the summer recreation program and couldn't devote the same amount of time on recreation and perform her school bus driving chores.

Councilman Ellis T. Pennington supported by Councilman James C. Stewart asked council to reappoint Mrs. DeBuysscher on an interim basis pending council's decision.

She agreed, but told council that she would not be able to spend long hours as previously on the job.

Mrs. DeBuysscher said after the council hearing that she would apply for the post.

Fund established for Romulus City Players

The Romulus City Council has approved the establishment of a fund for the Romulus City Players.

Recommendation for the fund was made and presented by the Romulus Recreation Commission at last week's council session.

Councilman William M. Oakley made a motion that the commission's recommendation be approved. He was supported by Councilman Ellis T. Pennington. The vote of council was unanimous.

The recreation department sponsored the first production of the Romulus City Players entitled "Paddle Your Own Canoe" which was presented Aug. 7 and 8 at the Romulus Senior High School under the direction of David Ferdon.

And outstanding job was done by the performers and the director, council was told. The next theater program is scheduled for Feb. 23. "Winnie the Pooh" is the title of the play.

In a report to council, DuWayne Martin, recreation commission chairman, presented the proposals of Ferdon regarding continuance of the activities of the Romulus City Players.

Ferdon stated that the initial production was successful on a number of counts.

The program was nearly self-supporting on the donations of patrons. It allowed young and old Romulus residents to work toward a common goal. And the program brought a unique

They, along with the leaders of the Romulus area Gilead Bus Ministry, Fouad Berry and Joe Pigeon, have adventures and experiences that make their friends, who sometimes think church is "dumb" more than a little envious.

"The things we do," said Donna Parker, "show how active a church group can get in Christian activity."

Last Friday the group left on a two day visit to one of the seven natural wonders of the world at Niagara Falls. This trip is only one of a series of outings that the church has sponsored to help make the youngsters see that being a Christian is being a happy, well-rounded person.

"Some of our friends think church is dumb, you know, learning about Christ, being a better Christian, getting rid of your sins," said Steve. "But when they hear about all the things we get to do, they begin to want to go to church too." "Yes," said Pat Berry, "they think it's stupid until we go on a trip or do something that's lots of fun, then they don't think it's so stupid."

The kids don't worry about ridicule. "I'm not afraid, because I know the Lord is watching over me," Pat explained.

The charter bus left Friday at 7 a.m. loaded with excited youngsters who had packed, along with a sack lunch and swimming gear one of their most important items; their Bibles.

Devotions were scheduled along the way and the miles were quickly covered by the singing cheering group of happy boys and girls who had worked all summer to save the fare for the trip.

Each youngster had earned at least part of the $23 required for transportation, lodging, meals and sightseeing, by doing odd jobs and household chores.

Astronauts top parade agenda

The parade, expected to be a mile in length, is to begin at 10 a.m. at Huron and Wahrman Roads. It will proceed through town to Sibley Road. Parade entries will disperse at three different locations.
A reviewing stand will be erected at New Boston Elementary School where the astronauts will address the audience.
They are scheduled to have a luncheon at St. Stephen's Church on Huron River Dr., New Boston, where they will leave for the air show at Willow Run Airport.
In detailing the inception of the police and fireman field day, Police Chief Maciolek said:
"There appeared to be a lack of communication between police, firemen and youth in some sections of the township. In addition our youth were getting involved in a number of things. Accidents doubled over a year ago. I felt that we should start to have more concern with our youth."
"We have a police force of eight men and we thought a police and fireman field day with parade and exhibits that would be of interest to youth be held once a year and on the second Saturday in September."

The police chief reported that invitations were sent to adjacent police and fire departments of nearly all communities in Wayne County. The response to our request for participation is excellent.
He added that when he saw a news report of the astronauts coming to Michigan, he jokingly remarked to Mrs. Carey that it would be great to have them in New Boston.
Mrs. Carey contacted the local offices of Congressman William D. Ford several days ago and within a short time NASA was in contact with Chief Maciolek and has been almost daily since, checking on security details and related matters.
Parade entries will be provided by most of the surrounding townships and cities. Police and fire departments from many adjacent communities will also have entries in the parade.
There will be marching bands from most of Western Wayne County high schools. Area service clubs, organizations and scout units as well many high schools are expected to have floats.
4-H Clubs and performing acts, including clowns, are to be in the parade as well as all branches of military service. The National Air Guard has scheduled the passing of a jet formation over the township during the parade.

Banner approved

A request made by St. Aloysius Catholic Church of Romulus to erect a banner at each end of Goddard Road advertising the church's Annual Fall Festival has been approved.

The council also authorized the issuance of a no-fee permit to erect the banners.

MAKING HER DAYS HAPPIER — Residents of Romulus, Van Buren, Belleville and workers at Kelsey Hayes Wheel, have been going all-out with gifts of household goods, funds and get well cards in an assistance campaign for Mrs. Eva McGinnis and her family of six children. Mrs. McGinnis Included will be registration dates, costs, class days and times for, Wayne Community College classes, Adult High School Completion, Adult Basic Education, Headstart, YWCA pre-school nursery, and Special interest and Enrichment classes. Also vocational education classes in Auto Mechanics and Cosmetology.

Smith stated that senior citizens, Romulus residents more than 65 years of age, may enroll in the special interest and enrichment classes without charge.

Ramada license delayed further

Bizek does. The council has not sat down and discussed these applicants. I don't think we should make any decision until we discuss the 57 applicants. If we vote tonight I would have to vote no."
Councilman Brooker T. Edwards said, "I am not opposed to giving a license to Ramada Inn. I must say too that individuals have the same right. I have been on the list but you don't worry about me. I have had my application on the list for over 10 years."

Ramada Inn, pending city council's action on its request and prior to last Tuesday night's council session, made a request to the Michigan Liquor Control Commission for approval to purchase a resort license from a resort business in Green Oaks Township, near Brighton in Livingston County.

A commission spokesman stated that "resort licenses are moveable. Transfers are made at the discretion of the commission."

Approval or disapproval of the request would not be made until an investigation the commission authorized is concluded.
The investigation usually takes about 45 days and in any event the city council would have to approve the transfer.

Vietnam political mess calls for U.S. pullout

The South Vietnamese presidential election is about a month away and the only candidate left in the field is the incumbent, President Nguyen Van Thieu.

Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky, whose candidacy was first blocked by a Thieu-inspired election law and then permitted when the Vietnamese Supreme Court hastily reversed its own position, has announced that he will not campaign.

His withdrawal followed hard on the heels of that of retired general Duong Van Minh, who had been given the best chance of defeating Thieu.

Minh, in pulling out of the race charged that Thieu was rigging the election. Ky said much the same thing, and suggested that both he and President Thieu submit resignations to make way for a new election in 90 days.

South Vietnam therefore has entered a major political crisis, with the possibility existing that an attempt will be made to oust President Thieu by force. Such a coup or attempted coup could threaten the South Vietnamese stability that the United States for years has been working to promote.

At the same time the image of a democratic South Vietnam that the United States also has worked to build has been weakened badly. A one-man race for the presidency certainly doesn't square with most Americans' concept of self-determination — and self-determination is supposedly one of the South Vietnamese rights for which our troops have been dying.

But the authoritarian nature of a succession of governments in Saigon never has been a secret. In fact it's surprising that there were any candidates who wished to oppose Thieu in light of the fact that the man who finished second to him in the 1967 election promptly was jailed and still remains in prison.

The current political mess in South Vietnam only provides more good reasons for a complete American military withdrawal as soon as possible.

A look through The Daily Eagle files at news of Western Wayne County one, 15 and 25 years ago:

25 YEARS AGO

Sept. 1, 1946 — The excuse that "there's no place to put trash but on the street" will no longer hold true in Wayne, and even dozen of self-closing rubbish receptacles have been received by the Village and placed at strategic spots throughout the business district.

The 12 trash cans, maintained by the Public Works Department, are painted white, making them plainly visible to those passersby who usually throw their candy and gum wrappers and empty cigarette packages on the street.

When the old Odd Fellows Hall at Third and St. Charles Court comes down to make room for a modern new supermarket, a lot of tradition will come down with it.

As people from many parts of the Belleville area pause and watch wreckers dismantle the building, some of them will be looking back before the beginning of the county when the old Belleville school was built.

ONE YEAR AGO

Sept. 1, 1970 — The Inkster Police Department Sergeants' and Lieutenants' Association is presently in a deadlock with the City of Inkster regarding the current contract on the bargaining table.

ILPSLA's negotiating representatives Sgts Charles Pilch, Cleveland Curry and Kenneth Fuller met with Karl Bennet, chief negotiator for the city.

The fur flew early in the Wayne Council chambers. The council began the meeting by hearing Chester Gravenood speak against the proposed demolition of his home. Gravenood had hoped to sell the house at a specific price, but they buyer may balk on her offer when she finds out about the demolition.

When the building director commented that the structure had been unoccupied for the past seven years, Gravenood's speech lost all credence and the council voted 7-0 to demolish the building at 3454 Ash St. Two other buildings — 4097 Columbus Ave. and 33534 Morris Ave. — are also to be demolished in the near future.

Area districts to be changed

It's entirely possible that some Michigan voters won't have the privilege of either re-electing or ousting from office their present legislators in the next election.

The reason is that Michigan's congressional, state house and senatorial districts are being reapportioned to reflect population shifts in Michigan during the last decade. Therefore, some districts will become larger in area while others become smaller.

This means that some voters will become part of a new congressional, house, and/or senatorial district.

In Michigan, apportionment of legislative districts strictly on the basis of population is relatively new. The first—and last time Michigan was apportionment was in 1964.

That's when the U.S. Supreme Court made its one-man, one-vote ruling, which provides that the state legislative districts must be determined on the basis of population. The high court's landmark decision was later applied to congressional apportionment. Theoretically, each of Michigan's senatorial and representative districts was approximately equal in population, based on the 1960 federal census.

Since that census, however, Michigan's population has shifted dramatically—primarily from the City of Detroit to its suburbs and from rural to urban areas. While some districts have gained in population, others have decreased. As a result, although two legislators' votes may count the same, one legislator may represent twice as many people as the other.

Reapportionment will now correct those inequities so that each legislator represents an approximately equal number of people, thereby insuring equal representation for all Michigan residents.

In Michigan, the task of apportioning both houses of the state legislature belongs to a state apportionment commission, composed of eight members, four of whom are selected by the Democratic party and four of whom are selected by the Republican party.

Each of the parties is required to appoint a resident of each of the following regions: the upper peninsula, the northern part of the lower peninsula, southwestern Michigan and southeastern Michigan. Members of the commission will reapportion legislative districts to reflect 1970 population figures have already been selected and have been at work since early April.

In drawing up new apportionment plans, the commission must meet certain requirements of the state constitution. For example, the constitution requires that house districts follow city and township boundaries and that they be composed of compact and continuous territory as nearly square in shape as possible.

Michigan's apportionment commission also is required by the constitution to hold public hearings and its final decision must be approved by a majority of its members. If the commission cannot agree on a plan, the final decision rests with the Michigan Supreme Court. Each political party may, if it desires, submit its proposed plan to the court for consideration. The Supreme Court also has been reserved the right to review any plan adopted by the commission and remand a plan to the commission if it fails to comply with constitutional requirements.

Although Supreme Court judges are elected on a non-partisan ballot, they are nominated by political parties. Therefore, one political party could hold an advantage over another if the state apportionment commission were to reach a stalemate.

If this should be the case this year, Democrats would appear to have the edge in that the majority of Supreme Court judges now serving were nominated by the Democratic party.

It is too early to say exactly what reapportionment will mean to voters in this area, but census figures show large population increases in most communities here.

While the total population of Michigan increased by eight per cent, population increased by 31.3 per cent in the City of Wayne (from 16,034 in 1960 to 21,054 in 1970), 10.1 per cent in Garden City (from 38,017 to 41,864) and 25.2 per cent in Belleville (from 1,921 to 2,406).

The population increase in some townships was even more remarkable. The population of Canton Township, for example, zoomed from 5,313 to 11,026 — a whopping 107.5 per cent.

On the other hand, the population of Inkster declined from 39,097 to 38,595 in 1970 — a decrease of 1.3 per cent.

Comparison of the 1960 and 1970 populations of other communities, such as Westland, are difficult because of changes in geographical boundaries between the two censuses.

Township supervisor lauds appeals board

To the editor:

The thing that I least understood as a private citizen was the extent to which local government is needed to protect society against a few willful, selfish, people.

These people will, it seems, do what they feel is best for themselves without regard for the general welfare. It were possible to have it followed. But as it is we pay dearly to have our rights reasonably well protected. Even so, many suffer from the activities of these people.

Some of our citizens serve at virtually no pay to try to help provide a good government. One such group is the three man Board of Appeals which was established by Michigan Statute.

I did not appoint our present Board of Appeals but I do feel they have been unjustly criticized for refusing to allow a trailer to be installed on farm property. It isn't easy to say "no" when you sympathize with an individual's problem. It takes courage to say "no" to prevent having trailers placed singly all over the township. This Board of Appeals cannot pass the buck to the township board either.

The Township Board is not empowered to change the decisions of the Board of Appeals. Only the circuit court can do this.

As early as 1959, the State Legislature passed the trailer law to provide a place for trailers. Even then it had been demonstrated that trailers (mobile homes) while having many good features, had the makings of a messy community if misused. All communities in congested areas have ruled against promiscuously placing of trailers.

I, for one, want to congratulate our Board of Appeals for acting in the interest of over 13,000 citizens. I am sorry that one person cannot have things exactly as he would like them.

Jaycees thank paper for help with publicity

To the editor:

The Romulus Jaycees would like to thank you and the fine staff of the Roman for the recent articles and pictures of Jaycee projects. We feel that the publicity extended to us will do much to further helpful relations between the community and its service clubs.

As you know, all our funds must come from community support. Only by the community seeing the distribution of these funds can we hope to warrant their further support. Articles in their home newspaper can do much to help us let people see the type of work in which we are engaged.

Beyond this, you have my personal thanks, since a little publicity does wonders in helping us revive the membership and to interest new members in joining us towards even larger and more beneficial projects.

Our publicity chairman, Jay Dick has conveyed your suggestions on how we can improve the articles and pictures submitted to you and we will do our best to meet these criteria.

Again, our thanks, and wishes for continued success.

Speaking of schools

Sports are great for building character

By BYRON K. ANTCLIFF, Superintendent Huron School District

High school sports, properly conducted, has no equal in our educational system as a character builder. Persons of character in our society have learned among other things:

1. The value of self discipline and self-denial, and sports require both mental and physical self denial.
2. To take their "knocks" without winning. The mental physical and emotional ups and downs in ones life are innumerable and learning to expect these ups and downs, then working to overcome them are experiences that are an everyday occurrence in the life of an athletic.

3. That success in life is dependent on what one does, not who he is. That you can expect to receive in relation to what you are willing to give. This is one of the first lessons taught in sports.

4. That individual drive in a co-operative effort will surmount great odds. Team work which is so vitally important in our society is nowhere more important than in sports.

Our coaches try to help young people develop favorable character traits by creating as favorable a learning situation as possible. Rules of conduct on and off the field require your child to practice self-discipline and self-denial and the emotional and physical conflicts of sports teach him to take what comes both as an individual and as a member of a team.

In addition, your child is at an age when it is important that he begins to develop self-confidence. There is nothing like sports to aid a youngster in developing this essential trait. Many youngsters afraid of sports to begin with, found the confidence to overcome other difficulties in their lives. We tried to help our young people in a sport rather than force all but the strongest out after the first day or two. This does not mean the young people are not worked into condition but rather that they are given an opportunity to adjust to the knocks and work as we go along.

Special bill covers budget lapse

Working at an accelerated pace which has included morning, afternoon and night sessions, the house and senate are moving rapidly to complete the budget for the fiscal 1971-72 year. It was necessary to pass a special bill to continue state spending at last year's levels until the new budget takes effect.

Budget bills recently approved by the house include $29.8 million for the departments of natural resources and agriculture, $73 million for general government, $49.5 million for state police and military affairs, $61 million in grants and transfers and $971,400 in grants to veterans' organizations.

Also approved was the $473.7 million restricted funds bill which includes monies earmarked for highways, state parks, the motor vehicle claims fund, waterways fund, marine safety fund, veterans' trust fund, aeronautics fund and game and fish protection fund.

The natural resources and agriculture budget includes funds for a division of weights and

Tilling the soil still his hobby

Many senior citizens are forced to resign from their job because of mandatory retirement age. Some are apprehensive about what they will do to occupy themselves during their golden years.

This is not the case of senior citizen, Stanley "Chestly" Wegienka, Sr. of 18255 Huron River Dr., New Boston.

Wegienka who celebrated his 82nd birthday on Sunday, continued to do what he loves most, that is tending to his immaculately clean vegetable garden.

Wegienka was born and lived all his life on a farm in Romulus, until he sold his farm and moved to New Boston in August, 1961.

When asked the question, "Don't you tire of farm work?" Wegienka chuckles and says, "What better things can a person do than to work with mother nature in producing the vegetables I have in my garden. Gardening isn't easy work, but I love to get my hands into the soil that produces the food we all live by."

Wegienka, a widower, lives with his youngest daughter, Irene. Mrs. Wegienka passed away in 1962.

He has five sons Matthew, Mark, Luke, John, and Stanley, Jr. all of whom reside in neighboring cities.

He is frequently visited by many of his relatives and friends, who enjoy his company. They listen attentively to the many stories he relates to them of his days on the farm.

Stanley will be getting together now with his younger brother, Frank since he moved to New Boston after retiring this past month.

Wegienka celebrated his birthday on Sunday with his family and friends.

State Bar presents special fair attraction

How the lawyer serves the individual and the community is the theme of a unique educational exhibit sponsored by the State Bar of Michigan at this year's Michigan State Fair.

The exhibit, located in the Whitehall Building, offers Fair-goers a close-up of many of the important services offered by lawyers.

Feature of the exhibit is a telephone information service, comprised of six special phones. Next to each phone is posted a question on a facet of lawyer service that might be of interest to an individual.

Any visitor to the exhibit simply has to read one of the questions, pick up the receiver related to that question, and get a 60-second answer in taped form.

The six questions are: "Should you have a will?"; "Is your signature important?"; "When do you need a lawyer?"; "Should you see a lawyer before buying a home?"; "Should I be a lawyer?"; and "You and the law."

Also, various brochures, published by the State Bar of Michigan, are available to booth visitors. They contain educational data such as advice in connection with the purchase of a home, traffic laws, safe driving tips, and general information on the services provided by lawyers.

An especially popular and practical brochure entitled "You and the Law," is slanted at pre-high school children and teenagers in general and stresses their obligations in a law abiding society.

Presented to the public under the supervision of the State Bar of Michigan Public Relations Committee, the exhibit is manned by the Lawyers Wives of Michigan.

To the Editor

Chairman is thankful for invalid Mass help

To the editor:

The Christian Services Committee would like to thank everyone who assisted in each way with the outdoor Mass held at St. Aloysius Catholic Church last Saturday. Over fifty persons attended the services. They came from Wayne, Westland, Dearborn, Belleville, etc. As well as Romulus.

We are very grateful to Fr. Joe, for giving us the opportunity to show our concern for our elderly and invalid in our own and surrounding communities, in this way. Thanks to Mr. X for loaning us his portable organ, as well as transporting it to our organist, Linda Fox for giving her time and talent, as well as leading us in the singing. The songs she chose were very appropriate to the occasion.

The Thomas boys served when they could have been enjoying a good swim or a ballgame. Mr. Chadwick, his son, and Mike Klein for building a temporary stage and hanging the backdrop. My special thanks. The VFW under Mr. Vestuair, their commander not only donated a flat to our school, but also helped the invalid on and off the bus or car they came in.

Mr. Frank Wisneiskie seemed to be everywhere, setting up chairs, taking down the altar, etc. Thanks to Fr. King, who so generously donated the use of his bus to make it possible for those without transportation to attend the Mass. Teenagers, you were terrific! (Including my own relatives)

Those who were unable to attend this time, pray that we can have another outdoor Mass soon, with you participating with us. Those who came saw real faith in action, love and faith in God shown in their faces, despite, or maybe, because of, the cross He gave them to bear. The gentleman in the wheelchair sat tall and proud, as he held our flag, throughout the services. Rosaries were used lovingly, as I remembered in years past. The beautiful sight as Fr. Joe came down from the altar, to take Holy Communion to each person, where they sat, in a chair or car. It was a tremendous emotional as well as a spiritual experience. These people were so overwhelmed with the beauty of the occasion, that they could not hide their tears of joy.

Friends relatives, and strangers, who transported the people, who otherwise would have been unable to attend their special Mass, thanks. Without you we would never have had the honor, of taking part in this Christian experience. God bless all of you and pray that we can have another outdoor Mass, for invalids, soon.

IN ONE MAN'S LIFETIME

Of all the years, man has walked this earth,
In all the eons, that are in man's mind,
My generation is the only one—
Who has lived thru this span of time.

I've ridden a horse, I've walked a plow,
I have driven a wagon, to haul,
I have driven a team with firewood on a sled,
Used a buggy to make a call.

I rode steel wheel tractors all the day,
That were easily stuck in the mud.
And Model "T" Fords with a "mag" for lights,
That had tire rims held on with a lug.

I've helped thrash crops where the power was steam,
And shouldered the grain away in a bag.
I've run a "Binder" out in the field,
That was drawn by a pair of nags.
On my first day of school, I walked a mile and a half,
And that was only one way.
It didn't matter about rain or snow,
We still never missed a day.

Our first radio was a "crystal" set,
With just one head set to listen.
And when Dad came home with a two phone set,
Boy how our eyes did glisten.

I've seen the Spirit of St. Louis
With "Slim" at the stick,
As it flashed against the sky.
I was part of the crowd, that gave him acclaim,
For showing oceans were easy to fly.

Now I'm sure I've been blessed, in my span of life,
By not having it ended too soon.
For imagine, besides, taking part in all this—
I've seen two Earthmen walk on the Moon.

Ford blasts Emergency Employment formula

Congressman William D. Ford (D-Mich.) has once again strongly criticized the Nixon Administration for discriminating against smaller suburban communities in the implementation of the Emergency Employment program.

His latest criticism arose after it became apparent that most of the Wayne County suburbs would receive little, if any of the $44.7 million which has been allocated to Michigan for public service jobs.

Accusing the Administration of "blatant disregard for the needs of the suburban communities," the congressman said, "I find it very difficult to believe that President Nixon has permitted his political strategists to devise a plan that allocates less than 2 per cent of the available funds to an area which represents almost 10 per cent of the state's population."

Under the Nixon guidelines, which prevent communities with populations of less than 75,000 from applying directly to the federal government for aid, only $797,700 of the almost $45 million allocated to Michigan is available for the smaller Wayne County suburbs.

The smaller communities have been informed that they may apply to the Wayne County government for a portion of this sum, but reports received by the congressman's office indicate that thus far, none of the 13 smaller communities in the 15th Congressional District have been allocated funds.

The communities which have been denied the opportunity to apply directly to the federal government for funding under this program are: Allen Park, Belleville, Canton Township, Garden City, Huron Township, Inkster, Lincoln Park, Melvindale, Romulus, Sumpter Township, Taylor, Van Buren Township and Wayne.

Allocations for Dearborn Heights and Westland, the two communities in Congressman Ford's district which have populations exceeding 75,000, had been previously announced.

Congressman Ford has opposed the guidelines from the outset, and previously expressed his opposition in meetings with Administration officials and fought against them on the floor of the House of Representatives.

The Congressman said, "In addition to disregarding the needs of the unemployed in suburban Wayne County, the Administration has shown a total disregard for the intent of Congress by preventing these communities from applying for direct aid."

"The act specifically requires that any funds apportioned to the states will be apportioned among areas within the state in an equitable manner. It is certainly not equitable when one community receives funds because its population exceeds an arbitrary cutoff point while another neighboring community with similar problems receives nothing simply because its population is a few thousand less."

Congressman Ford has announced that he plans to join other elected officials from the Wayne County area in meeting with Assistant Secretary of Labor Malcolm Lovell in Washington on Wednesday in an attempt to obtain more funds for the suburban communities.

September promising for Michigan tourists

The days of September through December are exciting days for a Michigan vacation the Michigan Tourist Council reports.

From mid-September through October, the vivid hues of autumn emblazon both peninsulas, attracting thousands of visitors and vacationers. Complementing this color panorama are numerous events scheduled throughout the state.

A traditional Labor Day event is the annual Mackinac Bridge Walk. Sept. 6 is the day, this year, when pedestrians will be allowed to walk the five-mile span from St. Ignace to Mackinaw City.

The September -December Michigan Calendar of Travel Events, just released by the Michigan Tourist Council lists 51 events taking place during the month including the American Amateur Baseball Congress National Finals, Sept. 10-13 in Battle Creek; for automobile enthusiasts, the Old Car Festival at Greenfield Village, Sept. 11 and 12.

Other color tours, sports shows, antique shows, fairs and festivals throughout the state are plentiful.

As the color of autumn fades and the hint of winter becomes prominent Michigan vacationers can enjoy such things as the Red Coat Round Up, Nov. 13-16 at Grayling; The Royal Lippizian Stallion Show, Cobo Arena, Detroit, Nov. 26 - 28; or the Cross Country Ski Races, Central Division, at Calumet, Nov. 28.

Highlights from the calendar for December are flavored with the holiday spirit.

The younger generation, particularly, will enjoy Fantasyland at Lincoln Park. Of interest to the whole family will be the display of Christmas Trees Around the World at the Nature Center in Kalamazoo Dec. 6-26, and, the Snowmobile Olympus at the Fairgrounds in Ironwood.

All total, Michigan offers 158 fun things to do and see, including collegiate and professional sports events, September through December, 1971.

For information about all these activities, write for a free copy of the Michigan Calendar of Travel Events, available from the Michigan Tourist Council, Suite 102, 300 South Capitol Avenue, Lansing, Michigan 48925.

'Walkabout' misses its allegorical mark

20th Century Fox presents, "Walkabout," directed and photographed by Nicolas Roeg, produced by Si Litvinoff, executive producer Max L. Rabb, screenplay by Edward Bond from the novel

By HOWARD ALLEN
Eagle Movie Critic

It may be the world is ready for a naturalist allegory, but it seems doubtful that Nicolas Roeg's film, "Walkabout," is it.

A walkabout is an ordeal that African aborigines submit their youths to as a test of maturation. They must leave their villages and survive on their own in the rugged Australian outback for a while, killing their own food.

Into this arid waste comes an English geologist, his teen daughter and her younger brother. For totally inexplicable reasons, the father becomes a maniac, shoots at his children, burns his car and kills himself. This is one way to strand two children in the wilderness but one suspects it could be done in a less bizarre and more probable fashion.

As the two children set out in search of civilization they meet a native youth, on a walkabout. They do not share a language; there is never any real communicating to do. Rudimentary sign language takes care of the basics of survival but not much more. Ultimately the lack of communication destroys the aborigine; he dons frightening face-paint for a courtship dance and when the girl is repulsed, the native commits suicide.

Director Roeg's own photography is interesting for closeups of Australian nature and scenic panoramic, but a murky allegorical counterpoint does not blend well. There is a sharp cut, for example, from the native skinning game he has speared, to a butcher chopping meat. Dozens of other details similarly intrude.

Dialogue verges on slice-of-life trivia and is inconsequential for those who nap easily.

Jenny Agutter is the so-British girl whose chief preoccupation seems to be washing her clothes because it would never do to be found in the wilderness looking like a savage. Lucien John is her engaging brother. David Gumpilil, who actually is an Australian aborigine, plays the native without affectations. "Walkabout" misses the mark. Badly. Its title is ample instruction to the audience.

HAND THROWN POTTERY - The art of creating hand-thrown pottery is being revived in Sandusky, Ohio. Every day, two skilled young people hand-throw pottery at the Potter's Wheel on Cedar Point's new Frontier Trail. One of them is Kathy Hosking, an art graduate from Thiel College. Daily she makes hand-thrown pottery items, glazes them and fires them in the kiln. Mugs, bowls, casseroles and vases are made and finished in the shop, which duplicates a late 1800 pottery works.

Ford Museum presents prints

Henry Ford Museum announces the opening of a special exhibition entitled "Famous American Printmakers of the 18th and 19th Centuries."

Thirty-two woodcuts, engravings, aquatints, wood engravings, and lithographs selected from the Museum Library's Print Collection provide a survey of the important individual printmakers and printing houses who have pictorially chronicled American history.

The exhibition, located in cases just to the left of the main entrance of the Museum, has been arranged by Donald R. Walters, Museum intern, under the direction of Jerome I. Smith, Museum Librarian.

The exhibition is arranged chronologically and incorporates some significant and often rare documents in American printmaking history.

Paul Revere's "Boston Massacre," 1770, a recent museum acquisition, is certainly one of the most well-known engravings of our heritage. This particular impression is exceedingly rare in that it is one of only two known impressions signed by the colorist, Christian Remick.

Pioneering landmarks in the history of lithography on view include a small lithograph by Bass Otis, which originally appeared in the "Analectic Magazine," July, 1819, commonly considered the first lithograph made in America, and illustrations in Cadwallader D. Colden's "Memoir of the Erie Canal Celebration," rich with 37 important early lithographs by Anthony Imbert.

A more familiar name to those interested in American prints is that of Currier & Ives, whose vast production of almost 7,000 titles is represented in this exhibition

'Come to the Cabaret' to feature new company

Henry K. Martin of the Zodiac Theatre will present a hilarious evening of political satire with his new American Shaft Company, at the opening of the Front Row Center series, presented by the Center Theatre of the Jewish Community Center, 18100 Meyers Road, Detroit, at 8:30 p.m., Thursday, Sept. 9.

Martin, whose revues such as "Bag It" and "Over The Counter" have introduced such stars as Lily Tomlin of "Laugh In" and Plaza 9, Choreographer Janie Sell, will offer highlights of the revues presented at the Zodiac, The Red Mill, Vanguard Playhouse and cabarets throughout Detroit.

"Come to the Cabaret" will satirize current events, the political scene and twentieth century man's social maladies in a witty and sophisticated series of satirical sketches. Admission is 50 cents at the door. Coffee and refreshments will be served.

The program is free to Center Theatre members and patrons and to season ticket holders for major products. Later programs will present the Greenfield Village Players, The Lone Ranger Stock Company and a panel discussion by Joseph Nederlander and other theatrical lights.

ITZA SWINGIN' SINGIN', WA-AY OUT and straight up nighttime place to go! And THE Man who is "Mr. Entertainment", you know him as Sir Robin Seymour, has come along to join the fun... and to make it even wilder, greater, more exciting than anything you ever thought could happen!! YOU know - or you set a know - THE LEDGEROCK, on Michigan, just east of Wayne Rd. doncha? Well, lemme tell ya, friends... you don't know anything like far out, till you see what's happening there right now and from here on!! It is now the "FUNNY FARM", and appearing there, natch, are "The Sunday Funnies" (you know 'em from their Motown Album) featuring Coz on organ... Ron on Bass... Mitch on The Drums and Fidge as head singer! A-N-D: in the future there will be Commander Cody & The Lost Planet Airmen, and a lotta drop-in NAMES. Open Tuesday thru Sunday The Music starts before 9:30 (but make it at 9 for a seat!) and T-O-D-A-Y is the Funny Farms opening... The sound goes right till Labor Day, for the Official Opening and if you wanna for real Eye Opener, be there to catch Yosemite Sam's Sam's hugacious Light Show! And THAT's not all....

A LETTER FROM MR. & MRS. MICHAEL GALE, of East Meadow, Long Island, N.Y., came our way this week, to tell us about the wonderful evening they spent at VARGO'S, (32305 McNichols - between Merriman & Middlebelt) in Livonia, as the guests of Mr. & Mrs. Sid Kogan, of Southfield. The Gales, who visit their Michigan-based family several times a year, plan to make this a regular feature of their trips "forevermore", they wrote... adding a thank-you for "Scene About Town's" recommendation of someplace VERY nice to go! "Of all the wonderful little 'in' and 'campy' places you read about in the N.Y. Press," wrote Mrs. Gale, "you'll never find one to compare with Vargo's!!" We're sending this clipping back, by way of answer, to say both Thank You... and (so we brag alittle) "We toldja so!" The nice note went on to mention that it was a fine place to take the entire family (four youngsters are invited along next trip)... and, at Dinnertime, we DO agree. It's also a swingin' place to have lunch... if you can spare the time to look at the food, baby! Vargo's, for this Writer's four-star recommendation, izzi! DON'T go to the bright-light City... like the letter sez, they'd all rather come HERE, to V-A-R-G-O-S. (Us too!)

WHATTA TRI-FECTA: CONNIE GRAHAM (With "The London Rock Survival) A-N-D BEAU-J'S!! ALL of 'em TOGETHER, at 13090 Inkster Rd., just south of Schoolcraft... smack across from Detroit Race Course! We've talked about our pretty lil pal, Connie Graham, before. She hazz a way of making news, does Connie! Once she's in Vegas... on national TV... singin'! it pretty in nearby Cities... and NOW, right where, at BEAU-J'S!! If you're inna bettin' mood, Baby, you CAN'T lose if you give Beau-J's 'n Connie and The Group a try that day. If you hit the BIG one... it'll multiply a thousandfold across the street. And, like a feller told us there, 't'other nite... "I don't even mind losin', when I give this chick a look 'n lissen!" The food is g-o-o-o-o-d, the mood is gooder, and little girl with great BIG voice makes your day really memorable! We know it's not February 14th, Connie... but can we love ya anyhow? (Everyone else does, sez our mailbag!) Beau-J's has the additional advantage, with all the road "improvements" happening around DRC, of being so easy to get to the street... into the happiest time you've ever had. ITZA SURE BET: put your money on Beau-J's for a winner of an evening! And you can bet on another thing... Cap'll Be there, with my Buddy, Superhost, Bob Markley! He makes it a "Quinella."

THE LADIES WHO COUNT THE MOOLAH, KNOW HOW TO INVEST THEIR OWN, TOO, IT SEEMS! The smiling faces of Rose Fowler and Agnes Caceres tellers at The Wayne Bank, testified to a happy way to buy satisfaction, as they beamed at us over their Dinners at THE DANISH INN, recently! Agnes & Rosie, you're the prettiest. Posies who ever chose-y those Beef Tenderloin Tips, and Host Dick Benek sautees 'em to perfection, right? And howabout the Relish Tray: Nice, And Soup, And Salad, And WHAT Rolls, And Butter, And those Potatoes (you hazz a few there six different times just to try all different kinds of Dinner Potatoes!). And didnja lo-ove that Chocolate Parfait? With your fingers, I'd enjoy Chocolate Parfait at The Danish Inn every day in the week. And I'd go there, anyhow... now that I know where else to ogle Rose 'n Agnes! Straight out to 32305 Grand River, in Farmington... park in the back... follow the music... the good smells... the pretty girls... to Danish Inn. THAT'S the good life. No wonder I give you girls my munny.

A-N-D, TALKABOUT A "Family Place", you've GOTTA talk about Mike Ellich's family-oriented Enterprises, like The London Derby spots... the gaining fame at "full steam" Java Junction, where train whistles blow and people feel like they're on a real 'trip' to eating fun... AND about the BIG Pizza Parlors (No. 100 is just about ready to roll) and Diner-Reader-Fun-seekers have been calling US to tell about the Little Caesar's out at the State Fair this week! Howzat for a switch?? We'll be out there this week to give it a try... so look around. If you recognize us at ANY Little Caesar's... ANY time, it's our treat! This week we did the Ford Rd., just off Wayne Rd. (Garden City) LITTLE CAESAR'S PIZZA PUB, to hear the famous "TONKY HONKS"... and laughed and sang our way through all kinds goodies! There's more than just Pizzas, in case that weren't enuff! There are Sandwiches, Fish, Beer, Wine... a complete choice of delish-ess... and fun by the Pubful! Music goes from 8:30 till 1:30 Thursday thru Sat'dy... 6:30 till 11 p.m. on Sunday, and you GO right with it! Do if the Family way once in awhile. It promotes the greatest rapport in the world! And this is a world where a bit more rapport... Like L'il C's, is needed in Families that work at togetherness. Little Caesar's Pizza Pubs are a together place to be!! C'mon, Family! RIGHT NOW!!

PEOPLE WHO TOLD US about the very happy and wonderful Anniversary of Ernie and Margaret Hofmeister (who celebrated TWENTY FIVE YEARS of Nuptial Bliss) added that it was made infinitely happier and more memorable by the fabulously elegant surroundings of VLADIMIR'S, at 28125 Grand River, in Farmington! Friends and Relatives who came to do them honor exclaimed repeatedly over the beautiful new building, and had MORE than a kind word about the ample, well-lighted and excellent parking (a rare commodity anymore!). And, next time I celebrate, it'll be with soft lights, red and gold carpeting, rough-hewn beamed ceilings, the spacious parquet dance floor of my favorite Vladimir's Hall. For your purpose, you might choose a room for 50... or 500. You'll find a raised stage for Entertainers, Speakers or Film Presentations. There are special wall and ceiling lights to highlight your happy Event, too... which led our "Correspondent" to tell us how they "lit up the evening!". Vladimir's joined well-wishers in congratulating the Hofmeisters... and we hear a GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY may just be booked in advance, at the very same spot! Congratulations, Ernie & Margaret.

O-O-O-H, BACK-TO-SCHOOL they (f-i-n-a-l-l-y) GO... and back to work for a lotta Gals who have a variety of reasons! Some financial... some a matter of wanting to keep 'with' it. Some because they were on "vacation" (?) while the sprats were! But whatever... another place they go, those workin' Mommas... is BACK TO VICTOR'S, at 34410 Ford Rd., in Westland. Again, for a variety of reasons: It's a BIG, bright, happy place to get away from the grind, whatever that might be. It's a workin'-Gals-Budget kinda place to Dine, and good for the pocketbook of a Housewife who just doesn't wanna settle for Coffee 'n leftovers from now til next Summer... and good for the figger, if Summer helped you spread a liddle, Honey! Vic gets call after call for the Weight Watcher's Special, every day now! If you're calorie wise, you'll know the Charbroiled Delmonico does you MANY favors. A: the charbroiling aids digestion. B: The lean, all-protein Steak burns itself up without adding weight, and takes a few more calories with it. (A Delmonico is fuel when you're trying to burn up lbs., you know!) C: The Cottage Cheese does the same thing for you as the Steak, while adding a variety of flavor. D: The crisp Lettuce and firm Tomato are roughage that trim you up. SO-oo, the very minute I-h-e-y go back to school, YOU go straight to VICTOR'S, right?

Flag Restaurant grand opening is tomorrow

Formal grand opening festivities for the Flag Restaurant, Romulus' newest eating establishment, will be held tomorrow (Thursday).

Flag Restaurant, owned and operated by James Lyos, 36, of Irish Hill, is located at 9247 Middlebelt Rd. at Wick Road, Romulus. The restaurant opened for business last Tuesday.

A unique highlight of the grand opening will be a contribution of the restaurant's receipts to Romulus Boy Scouts and Romulus Public Library.

Monies taken in during the 24-hour period on Sept. 2 will be distributed as follows: 75 per cent to the Boy Scouts and 25 per cent to the library, Lyos announced.

The restaurant has a seating capacity of 54 persons and is modern in every detail.

Lyos, who has been in the restaurant business for 20 years, was born in Greece. He is married and the father of two boys, one girl and an adopted Korean girl.

For the last eight years he has operated Biff's Restaurant on Belleville Road at the I-94 Expressway and three years ago opened another Biff's Restaurant on Dixie Highway at I-94 Expressway in Monroe.

Manager of the new restaurant is Ted Blondal of Detroit. Restaurant supervisor is Sherman Clark of Livonia, and his assistant is Frank Johnson of Monroe.

Lyos named his new restaurant in the honor of the American flag. He said:

"I was born in Greece. America has been very good to me. I have met and mingled with a goodly number of Americans from all parts of the United States and representing all walks of life in this country.

"I just felt that the name would show my appreciation and indicate my esteem for the country that the American flag represents."

NEW RESTAURANT OPENS IN ROMULUS — Flag Restaurant, located at 9247 Middlebelt Rd. at Wick Road is Romulus' latest and newest restaurant. Grand Opening festivities will be held Sept. 2. Welcoming the new owners and executives of the establishment is Charles W. Hazen (right) director of planning and community development for Romulus. Others (from left) are Ted Blondal, manager;

Frank Johnson, assistant supervisor; Lawrence P. Malec, Detroit Area Council of the Boy Scouts; Sherman Clark, supervisor; and James Lyos, owner and president of Flag Restaurant Inc. The proceeds of the grand opening day are to be contributed to Romulus Boy Scouts and Romulus Public Library.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

BY HAROLD REDISKE, DIRECTOR

In less than a century, labor has made tremendous and almost unbelievable gains... From a modest and initial purpose of better wages and strengthened job security, labor today finds itself tangled and perhaps trapped in a net of laws that cause people to ask, "How will it all end?"

A look at some of the common words seen and heard these days in labor matters shows how a new, up to date labor vocabulary requires intimate understanding of labor-management relations, public interest protection, labor courts, governmental intervention, compulsory arbitration, minimum wage, moonlighting, union dues check-off, apprenticeships, unemployment compensation, industrial compensation, fringe benefits, etc. All these and others were unheard of words not too many years ago. Through the years, labor has acquired a good taste of "the good life". Even better days are optimistically and hopefully seen ahead... But a disturbingly, nagging question remains — "How will it all end?" Or... more disturbingly... "WILL it all end?" ...

Rotary donates money to cagers

Romulus' Rotary Club dug deep into its pockets this summer, and gave the Romulus High School basketball team a chance to get in some extra practice in a competitive league this past summer.

The Rotarians donated $150 to coach David Court and his Eagle cagers, giving them an opportunity to play in the St.

Caecilia summer basketball league in Detroit.

Ed Baum, Rotary president and athletic director at Romulus High, and Jason Lovette, treasurer of the club, made the donation to Court shortly after the school year ended in June.

The money was to be used to cover the cost of the entry fee, with enough left over to buy some jerseys. The shirts never came in, but Court was grateful for the opportunity to play in a competitive league.

Court looks for greater improvement, thanks to the Rotarians, in the 1971-72 campaign.

Road improvement bids announced by Faust

Bids on projects totaling an estimated $2.25 million for road improvements to five cities within the 13th senatorial district were announced Monday by Senator William Faust, D-Westland.

"The improvements," said Faust, "include widening, paving and resurfacing of roads in the cities of Wayne, Inkster, Westland, Taylor and Dearborn Heights."

"The work," he said, "would be under the supervision of the Department of State Highways."

Weithoff Road in Wayne, Westland and Inkster. This work will not include the new section of US-12 from the C & O Railroad overpass at the west city limits of Wayne to Fourth Street. The estimated cost of the project is $670,517 and the completion date is August 1972.

Improvements to the intersections of Van Borne Road and Beech Daly and Inkster roads in Romulus, Taylor, Dearborn Heights and Westland will include construction of grading and drainage structures, widening, storm sewer alternations and paving.

The estimated cost of the project is $549,894 and the completion date is June, 1972. Approximately $1,029,470 will be expended for the widening and paving on eight-tenths mile of US-12 between Beech-Daly Road and Gully Road in Dearborn Heights and widening and paving on nine-tenths mile of westbound US-12 in Inkster and Dearborn Heights. The project also includes paving on one mile of US-12 (both lanes) in Inkster and Dearborn Heights. The completion date is November, 1972.

Faust pointed out that all bids on these projects must be approved by the State Administrative Board before contracts can be awarded.

DRIVE holding first annual picnic

The Downriver Association for Retarded Children is holding its First Annual Fund Raising Picnic on Sunday, Sept. 5, at Handler's Park in Trenton, (located between Van Horn and Vreeland Roads off West Jefferson) from 12 noon until 8 p.m.

Picnic Chairman Rinaldo Campagne extends an open invitation to the public to come and have some fun and enjoy themselves at the last big picnic of the summer.

Admission is a $1 carload. A Barbeque Chicken Dinner will be served all afternoon for $1.50. With prizes, raffles, kiddie rides, moon walks, refreshments and a live band for dancing.

The DRARC is being assisted by the Knights of Columbus Council 1802 from Wyandotte.

Proceeds from this picnic will benefit all the children of the Downriver area.

CAP squadrons in rescue test

The Civil Air Patrol of the Metro Emergency Services Senior Squadron along with the Wayne-Romulus Cadet Squadron and Cherry Hill Cadet Squadron have participated in the recent Annual Search United States Air Force training program.

Annual Search United States Air Force training program. On hand at the Mio, Michigan Communication site were 12 seniors and 29 cadets, all volunteers. Ground rescue was sent out and recovered target and treated simulated injured parties with first aid which is part of the cadet training.

The final score on this test was 100 percent. Also while at Mio, eight senior members were promoted from Chief Warrant Officer to the grade of Second Lieutenant.

Tax to be levied

The Michigan Senate yesterday approved a bill calling for a quarter mill tax levy against the citizens of Wayne County to maintain the Wayne County Community College.

The quarter mill must be set aside from county millage proceeds in order for the school to receive the $5.5 million in state aid approved by the state legislature last week.

The levy will aid approximately $1.7 million to the funds needed to run the college.

The county millage will account for approximately 17 per cent of the funding for the school during the 1971-72 school year.

Old Car Festival slated for Village

The action-filled Old Car Festival makes its 21st annual appearance at Greenfield Village Sept. 11-12 accompanied by the lively beat of a ragtime band, the cheerful tunes of an oldtime callopie and the chugging and backfiring of ancient automobiles.

More than 325 antique vehicles made before 1926 will come from all over the country to compete for the blue ribbons awarded for accuracy and excellence of restoration. Their appropriately costumed drivers will put them through a variety of tests and races so that visitors can see them in action.

Cars made from 1917 through 1925 take part on Saturday, Sept. 11, while the really old ones—some dating back to the last century—take over on Sunday.

A galaxie of special activities add to the fun. Visitors will see more than 30 authentic 19th-century high wheel bicycles circle the activities field as their riders demonstrate the techniques of maneuvering these unwieldy machines.

Appearance of these bicycles contributes another facet to the automobile lore that abounds at the Old Car Festival, since it was early riders who pioneered in the effort for better roads, road signs and roadside accommodations essential to the development of motoring.

A highlight of the two-day event is the unique presentation of the famous Canadian Model T Assembly Team. As spectators watch, the six-man team puts together a Model T from a pile of component parts and drives it off the field in under ten minutes. This year the team will be attempting to break their six-minute record.

Ceremonies honoring the automobile industry and its history will be conducted each day. Saturday, the Village and Henry Ford Museum will acknowledge the 75th anniversary of the industry with a special presentation to the Automobile Manufacturers Association. Sunday, they will pay tribute to the Lincoln-Mercury division on its 50th anniversary.

Throughout each day, visitors can see a series of exhibits and craft demonstrations related to the automobile and its history.

The festivities begin on both days at noon with a parade of the putting gas buggies, hissing steamers and silently sliding electrics through the historic streets of the Village. The day closes with the Grand Championship awards at 5 p.m., when the best of each day's cars are lined up on the competition field. There an elite corps of judges examines them to determine the best in the show.

Designed to revive the fun and excitement of America's early motoring days, the Old Car Festival at Greenfield Village effectively combines authenticity with enjoyment.

Recognized as the largest antique automobile event of its kind in the country, it is perhaps the most popular activity of the Village's full schedule of special events. As in all special events, there is no additional charge for the Old Car Festival beyond the Regular admission of $2 for adults and $1 for children 6 through 14.

Corn crop storage should be reviewed

Now is the time to review storage needs for 1971 crop corn, Nick Smith, chairman of the Michigan State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee announced.

He reminds producers that if they plan to use the Price Support Program in their marketing plans, it will be necessary to arrange for storage in approved warehouses or provide acceptable on-farm storage for their corn crop.

Corn harvest this year may start a little earlier, he pointed out, because there was a tendency to plant 1971 corn earlier to avoid blight damage. Under these circumstances and a possible bumper corn crop it is not too early, to make plans for additional storage if it will be needed, he said.

Smith pointed out that the county loan rates range from $1.08 to $1.12 per bushel, the same as for 1970.

One change to the program, he added, provides that loans will be made available on the basis of "where the corn is stored" rather than the county "where it was produced." This action, he stated, is intended to encourage the flow of corn into principle consuming areas.

The Aug. 10 crop report, Smith noted, indicated a bumper crop of corn nationally and also in Michigan. Market prices tend to dip during the harvest season and prices for new crop corn have already dropped below the support price in many areas, he said.

Most producers, he stated, who have storage or can obtain storage might be interested this year in holding their 1971 crop corn and marketing it later in the season. This contributes to an orderly marketing of the crop and tends to stabilize prices. Producers who stored their corn in the fall the last several years have netted more by selling the following spring and summer than if they had marketed it at harvest time, he added.

More drivers seen for Labor Day weekend

Traffic over the Labor Day weekend will be heavier than for the same period a year ago, the Department of State Highways predicts.

Motorists will drive an estimated 619 million miles over the four-day period from Friday through Monday (Sept. 3 through Sept. 6) an increase of 1.5 per cent over the 1970 total of 610 million miles.

To prepare highways for the last rush of summer, State Highway Director Henrik E. Stafseth has ordered a halt to all highway work except emergency repairs, from 5 p.m. Friday (Sept. 3) until 8 a.m. Tuesday (Sept. 7).

Stafseth also ordered all construction projects to be in satisfactory condition for traffic safety during the weekend.

Stafseth said the Department has recommended voluntary restrictions for Saginaw River shippers to minimize weekend openings on the Zilwaukee Bridge carrying Interstate 75 over the Saginaw River.

Some traffic congestion is expected on all major north-south highways during peak travel periods. Northbound traffic is expected to peak from 2 to 10 p.m., Friday, 9 a.m. to 2 p.m., Saturday and from 4 to 9 p.m., Saturday. Southbound return traffic will be heaviest from 2 p.m. to 9 p.m. on Monday.

Detours and restricted traffic areas to be in effect over the holiday weekend are: M-19 detoured south of Brockway in St. Clair County.

M-21 between Grandville and Zeeland (Ottawa County)

M-27 detoured south of Cheboygan to county roads.

M-59 detoured between Airport Road and Williams Lake Road west of Pontiac.

M-66 detoured between M-78 and M-79 in Barry County.

I-75, Rouge River Bridge, center lane closed for repairs. I-75 traffic near Gibraltar, traffic restricted to one lane due to Interchange construction.

I-94 near east city limits of Dearborn, traffic reduced from three to two lanes.

I-94 in Ypsilanti area — traffic reduced to one lane in each direction, only during week-day working hours.

Drivers may face DAVE for new licenses

The next time you renew your driver license, you may take your reexamination with "DAVE."

Richard H. Austin has announced the start of the pilot program to test the Driver Audio-Visual Examining system, nicknamed "DAVE", a new system using sound-filmstrip projector units similar to a small television set.

The primary purpose of Dave is to have currently-licensed drivers to re-evaluate their driving habits and outline traffic regulations and defensive driving techniques, Austin said.

"We are going to be testing the new system in several of our examining bureaus to make sure all 'bugs' are out before we expand the program statewide," he said.

The pilot machines are being set up at the following Department of State Branch Offices: Lansing: 414 North Larch Street; Detroit: 16435 West McNichols; Grand Rapids: 3510 Plainfield N.E.; Charlotte: 708 Lawrence Street; Howell: 201 S. Michigan; and Corunna: 227 N. Shiawassee.

"During our field-trials, every applicant taking a vision test on the DAVE system will also be given a vision test on the telebinocular device that has been in use for many years. We are doing this as a means of double-check the accuracy of that portion of the test."

The pilot program will run about 60 days. If found feasible, the entire project will be put into operation in late December or early January.

The DAVE system had its origin back in 1967 but its development got into high gear in February of 1969 when the Michigan Department of State was awarded a 50-50 matching fund grant by the U.S. Department of Transportation to establish such a testing program, Austin said.

The applicant will first be given the vision test, checking peripheral vision and eye strength.

Once the vision test has been completed, the program will advance to a series of 10 "knowledge type questions" relating to safety and driving regulations. After each question, the applicant will have slightly more than five seconds to mark his answer on a score sheet.

Total cost of the program when implemented statewide, including development costs, will be about $222,000 of which one-half has been contributed by the federal government.

"It may not be a bad idea for Michigan motorists to check their driver license right now. If it's about to expire, you may be meeting DAVE soon."

Nomads flying club tours European cities

After their arrival in Amsterdam aboard their new Lockheed Electra "Clubhouse" airplane, members of Nomads, Inc., of Romulus, a southeastern Michigan area flying club, split into two groups.

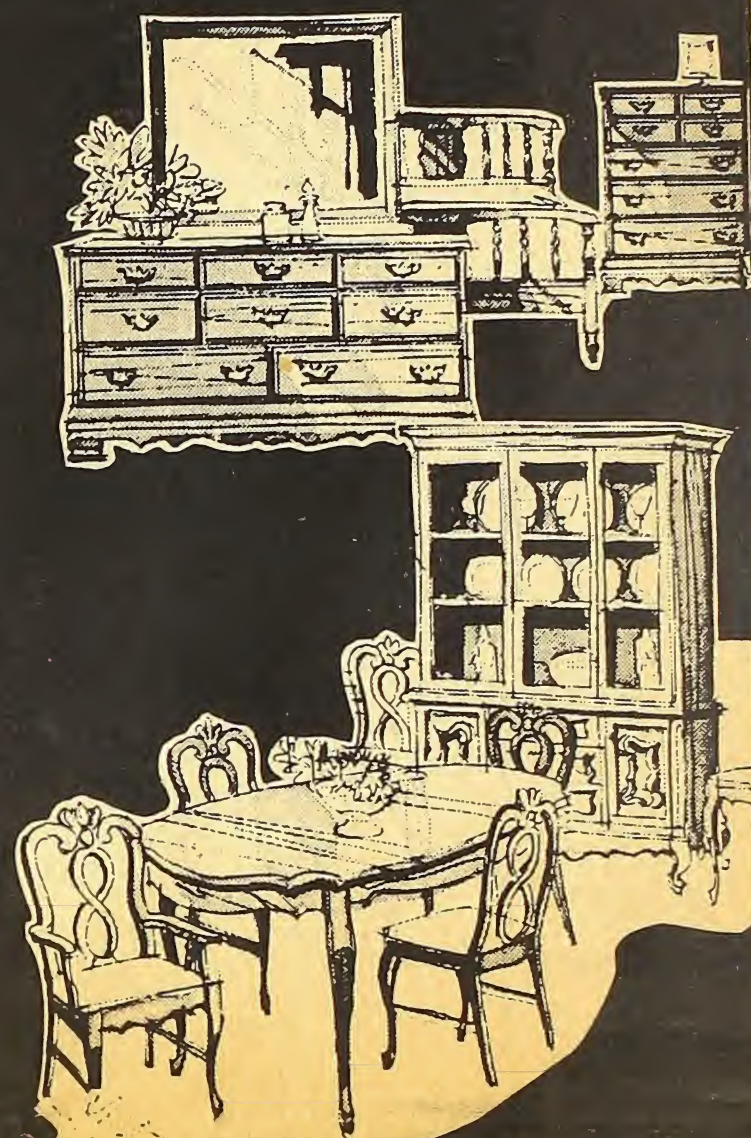

One group took a variety-packed tour to Venice, Florence, Rome and Capri, then north to Austria and on to Ireland. The second group took a close look at German Cities, then on to scenic Switzerland, Austria, then north to Ireland where they met with other Nomad group, then home.

Among the crew members was Clarence McCollough, flight engineer.

Romulus faces an independent season

By TOM MOORADIAN Sports Editor

"We had only a few league games as it was," said Pratt who enters this 1971 campaign with 15 lettermen and a crop of promising prospects. "There were only four teams in the Twin Valley, so we had only three league games and we will be meeting two of those this season."

"I really don't think it's going to make a difference. These boys will play, believe me," Pratt added.

The Twin Valley Conference was dissolved in June. Rouge, Ecorse, Willow Run and Romulus have gone their separate ways but, Romulus has scheduled Rouge and Willow Run.

Pratt, 34, guided the Eagles to a 4-5 over-all record last year. He feels his charges will better that mark this season. His optimism stems from a veteran-packed offensive backfield which is led by junior quarterback Virgil Smith.

Smith, who has earned letters in wrestling and football, is a rugged athlete who can run and pass well. "He's a good all-round quarterback," Pratt noted. "And he's fast."

Smith's backup man, who also is pushing for that starting role, is Herb Miller. Miller's credentials include a successful year on the reserves.

A couple of other veteran-grapplers form the nucleus of the backfield. They are John Arrington, a powerful fullback who will be counted upon to give the Eagles the short yardage, while Brent Hamilton, last year's leading ground gainer, has plenty of speed to go with experience, and that combination can be deadly.

"We seem to have the depth in the backfield which we haven't had in the past," said Pratt.

However, the Romulus coach needs to fill three holes on the offensive line, and one of those will take a lot of doing. The Eagles lost All-Area, All-Conference and honorable mention all-state tackle-middle guard Mike Csaszar, who has graduated.

Csaszar, is presently attending Grand Rapids Community College.

But Daryl Gooden, a 6-foot, 3 inches, 190-pound junior, could easily make fans forget Csaszar. Gooden has the potential to cause rivals plenty of headaches. Also working out as the second tackle is 6 feet, 1, 185-pounds, Tom Nault who, though lacking in experience, doesn't lack the talent.

Center John Maitland, a senior (5 feet, 8-175 pounds), guard Robin Block, senior, (170-pounds, 5 feet, 10) and Ken Mann (6 feet, 5 inches, 185 pounds) round out the returning regulars.

Mann played defending halfback and quarterbacked the team a year ago, but has been shifted to the split end slot.

The big question mark lies in the defensive lineup where only two regulars are on hand. Ends Herb Bordt and Tim Miank are back for duty.

"Some of these kids will go two ways," said Pratt. "But I feel we have plenty of talent this year to fill in the holes."

Sports meridian

About football stats

By TOM MOORADIAN Sports Editor

Now is the time for all good high school football coaches to come to the aid of local sports editors and sportswriters.

And now that I got my typing lesson out of the way let's get serious-really.

Since we have about three more weeks before that inevitable blastoff, it gives us enough time to deliberate and concentrate on fall madness. One phase of it, anyway.

Statistician, that is the word for today.

Could we implore our prep minions of football warfare to aid this depressing economy and ask them to "employ" capable understanding football statisticians during the 1971 campaign?

The "statman", for the "unknowledgeables", is the guy who keeps track of everything that happens-pro or con during the game and hands over those "happenings" to the analytical coach who interprets the stats for future use.

The key word is interprets.

In some cases the statistician is so bad that neither the coach nor the statman knows what he has.

And the gummed up paper work is also presented to the sportswriter in order to interpret and to write his story.

Contrary to popular belief, sportswriters don't make the scene of every high school game in the area each Friday night during the season. He may attend ONE of those games, but not all TEN of them at once.

Therefore, the statistician becomes a very important man. He provides a lot of the data that the sportswriters offer as their stories. And when that data is inaccurate, to say the least, then the obvious consequence is mayhem.

During the course of the last decade or so we have heard coaches moan (and sportswriters as well) because of the total ineptness of the man with the pencil.

Now is the time to select a man who will keep his eyes on the game and produce.

Really.

See, boss, I told you I could write a column about statisticians.

HE'LL LEAD EAGLES - Virgil Smith, a man for all seasons, will handle the quarterback chores for Romulus this season. A junior who can pass short and long, Smith also has the power to run. Coach George Pratt also has a sophomore Herb Miller handy to backup Smith when and if needed.

Tiger Swim Club wins 16 medals

The Tiger Swim Club managed to capture two first places and 16 medals last week at the 11th annual age group swimming meet held at Lower Huron Metropolitan Park near Belleville.

About 224 boys and girls, ages 17 to 10 competed in the meet.

On the 1 and 3 meter diving boards, Belleville High All-Area diver, Barry Susterka finished with top honors, while Joe Thomas breezed to a gold medal in the 10 and under 40 yard breaststroke event.

Here is a rundown of local performers: Chris Renton, Joe Thomas and the Kause brothers - Jim and John placed second in the 160 yard medley relay for boys 10 and under.

Jim Kause was seventh in the 40-yard breaststroke.

Howard Renton touched in seventh in the 80-yard freestyle event for boys 11 and 12 years old. In the 15-17 bracket, Brad Susterka was fifth in the 160 yard individual medley and he also was fourth in that age group for the 80-yard butterfly.

KEY FIGURE - Returning letterman John Arrington could provide Romulus with one of the most potent offensives in the area if he comes through for the Eagles as fullback.

Huron shooting for 7-2 record

In his second year as Huron's head football coach Lee Smeltzer posted a 6-3 won-lost record which was the best record in the history of the New Boston high school.

What can he do for an encore? Maybe an undefeated season?

"With Tecumseh, the defending champ, retaining most of the boys who won it for them last year, it's going to be tough," said Smeltzer. "We're shooting for a 7-2 record, and that's aiming pretty high."

Huron will launch the 1971 campaign on Sept. 17 at Grosse Ile. The Chiefs will face eight league rivals and nonleague adversary Harper Woods (Oct. 16) with only 10 lettermen back from last year's squad.

"We're green in the offensive backfield," pointed out Smeltzer who has brought football respectability to the high school which floundered on the gridiron for the last decade. "But I am happy about the progress of our team."

Though he didn't earn a letter last year, Mario Garcia appears to be the one to do the signal-calling for the 1971 Chiefs. After one season with the reserves, Garcia has the polish, according to his coach, to handle the job.

Garcia will have one regular in the backfield to call upon and he's Chuck Inman, a senior who was last year's fullback. This year Coach Smeltzer has decided to shift him to the running back slot.

Maloy Conley, who picked up over 1000 yards as a reserve back, will definitely get a chance to show his acuity on the varsity as will Ray Lloyd who is being fitted for a backfield slot. Wayne Kiser also fits into Smeltzer's plans as a halfback.

Though there are plenty of holes on the offensive line, the Chiefs do have several good-looking prospects with senior center Bruce Bullard (5 feet, 11 inches, 160 pounds), Frank Cameron, senior co-captain, 5 feet, 10 inches, 170 lbs., Ron Thompson, a two-year regular who will shift his 5 feet, 11 inches, 190 pound frame to a tackle post.

Another two-year regular end, Dan Clark, is being

OFFENSIVE LINEUP - What Romulus rivals will be greeted with in the way of the Eagle offensive line is an experienced core of veterans made up of Tim Miank (from left)

Daryl Gooden, Robin Block, John Maitland, Herb Bordt and Tom Nault. With the dissolution of the Twin Valley Conference, Romulus will play an independent schedule this season.

Tigers don pads

Belleville will open up the 1971 campaign on the road at Bedford-Temperance in a nonleague game which is scheduled for 8 p.m. The Tigers will face two new rivals in the expanded Suburban 8 Conference. Dearborn and Edsel Ford (also a Dearborn high school) have been admitted into the league after dropping out of the now defunct Sauk Trail Conference.

Both Dearborn high schools have excellent football programs.

Belleville will have to be greatly improved if it is to climb from a 2-7 over-all record of a year ago. The Tigers face a stronger schedule than they did in previous years.

Belleville was hit severely by graduation, losing its leading groundgainer in Garrade Pettus, an outstanding all-around athlete who won plaudits in basketball and track as well.

The Tigers have eight men back from last year's squad whom they'll be pinning their hopes on. Among letterwinners are All-Conference safety Tony Ogletree, quarterback Mike Garland, halfback Mike Dansard, tackle Keith Simons, guards Gary Krajewski, John Alford and Terry Pate.

Belleville opened last year's campaign with an impressive 28-6 victory over the eventual co-Sauk Trail Conference champ, Wayne Memorial, but then hit a slack against Dearborn Heights Robichaud, losing 14-12.

The Tigers, though they managed to pull out a 14-6 victory over Livonia Bentley later, never fully recovered from the jolting by Robichaud.

After their opener on the road, the Tigers will return the following week to take on league rival, Trenton (Sept. 24) at 8 p.m. for their inaugural home game of the campaign.

Clinical computer to help out at Wayne County General

Wayne County General Hospital now has the most comprehensive computer-assisted laboratory in Michigan, Dr. Emma J. Conklin, Director of the hospital, announced today.

The new "assistant" is a $300,000 MDS-CLC 102, a clinical laboratory computer system designed by Medical Data Systems Corporation, a Detroit-based company specializing in hospital computer systems.

The MDS-CLC 102 monitors the laboratory's test instruments and evaluates all the tests given to patients during their stay in the hospital.

"Test results are now available as soon as they are completed," said Dr. Conklin. "Doctors are able to receive critical test information instantly from the terminal's TV screens, as well as periodic and summary test reports for their patients' charts."

"This enables them to react immediately—not after a day or half-day for results to arrive. It means better care for the patient, and possibly a shorter stay in the hospital."

"The system is believed to be the only one in Michigan employing television-screen CRT terminals," according to Frank S. Teodecki, Jr., president of Medical Data Systems. These terminals make it easier to enter and retrieve Laboratory test information."

He also said that "since monitoring is continuous and any deviation from standard results immediately triggers a signal, quality control is expected to be significantly improved and retests and inaccuracies significantly reduced."

The computer also prepares specimen drawing lists, prints out test tube labels, and reports administrative and medical statistics.

It was installed by Medical Data Systems, whose $300,000 contract with the hospital covers the required programs and continuing on-site support and maintenance for five years, as well as the computer system.

"The system provides an important step toward computerization of many of the hospital's functions in an effort to furnish services at lower costs and make possible an improved level of care," Dr. Conklin declared.

"Wayne County General Hospital conducts more than one-million tests a year for patients—and the number is shooting up every year. The MDS-CLC 102 will allow us to handle this volume much more effectively, at a lower per-unit cost."

"More importantly, it will give us the data-gathering and data-reporting speed and accuracy that we will need to meet the increasing demands we are facing."

"It will enable us to have fingertip access to information that would otherwise be unavailable to us. It will allow us to process voluminous or complex masses of material in relatively short time and make it available in standardized, easy-to-read form that reduces or prevents error. And it will free skilled personnel for more important tasks."

Teodecki pointed out that the system was designed along modular lines. "It works as a self-contained clinical laboratory system, and also as part of a hospital computer system. In this case, it is on-line with an admitting center system and it will shortly be providing clinical billing data and admitting-discharge data to the business office computer system."

"Computerization is being recognized more and more as a likely solution to the pressing problems faced by hospitals today—the soaring costs for instance, the heavier-than-ever patient loads, the drastic of trained personnel, and the mounting paperwork," Teodecki said.

Phony JAs reported here

It has been reported that teenagers, presenting themselves as members of Junior Achievement, have been soliciting sales door to door in the Detroit area.

Junior Achievement of Southeastern Michigan states that there are no J.A. salesmen at this time, as all Junior Achievement activities were dissolved at the end of the school year.

The J.A. program year begins in September with the recruiting of high-schools for enrollment in this "learn-by-doing" experience in practical economics.

Mini-companies will be formed in October and manufacturing of new J.A. products will begin shortly thereafter. Every member of the J.A. company carries an official identification card, which is shown to the householder before making a sale.

Free horse shows at Michigan State Fair

If you like horses, don't miss the 1971 Michigan State Fair. The Fair will present free horse shows every evening, and week-end matinees in the Coliseum. More than 2,000 horses have been entered in the Fair, coming and showing at brief intervals. All of the major horse and pony breeds will be represented. The Fair opened Aug. 27, will close Sept. 12.

Block long horse barns along Livestock Row will be open to visitors, but watch out for horse-traffic! Owners will be hurrying from stable to show ring, intent on exhibiting their charges before a panel of distinguished judges.

More than $50,000 in cash premiums, gleaming trophies and place-ribbons will go to deserving winners. A championship award won at State Fair outweighs laurels gained at a regular horse show, in minds of many horsemen.

The two opening days of the Fair was devoted to a Youth Division in which horses and livestock form an important section. Young equestrians showed their horses in classes divided into age groups of riders.

Trotting and Showing, Horsemanship under saddle, and Pleasure riding classes will decide championships in each age group division. Some junior owners may elect to remain and take part in the regular open show for horses exhibited according to breed.

The 1971 Michigan State Fair Horse Show has been divided into three parts. First division that started Aug. 29, was for spotted Appaloosas and their smaller cousins, the Ponies Of The Americas, Morgans, Arabians and Half-Arabians.

The much admired Detroit Mounted Police Bureau will not only patrol the grounds, but also present daily quadrilles that are a marvel of precision maneuvers in formation. Their "Charge of the Light Brigade" is a regular show-stopper not soon forgotten, and a special thrill for kids.

All of the privately owned horses exhibited in the Open Horse Show at the Fair are purebreds, registered in a recognized breed organization. Only exceptions are in classes for Hunters and Jumpers, where only ability counts, and in Cattle Cutting and Barrel Racing Contests, where western Quarter Horses predominate.

Division two of the Horse Show, will entertain high stepping American Saddlebreds shown in fine harness and under saddle, long striding Tennessee Walkers, two-toned Pintos, Hunters and Jumpers. A large Pony section is set aside for Shetlands, Hackneys, Welsh and Long Tailed Harness Ponies.

Show Section number three will include golden Palominos, and Parade Horses—considered to be peacocks of the horse world. American Quarter Horses form the largest single section, and several days will be needed to stage qualifying classes in which finalists will strive for performance championships. Cattle Cutting is a special feature in which Quarterbreds excel, however, the event is open to others.

Quarter Horse sprint races will occupy Sunday morning, Sept. 12, four races out of gates, on the racetrack in distances ranging from 330 yards to the traditional 440 yards, which is a quarter mile.

Draft Horses in classes for Belgians, Percherons and Clydesdales have their own department, to be judged Sept. 3, 4 and 5. Heavy hitches of twos, fours and sixes will appear in the Coliseum, a real treat seldom witnessed in this motorized era.

Pulling Contests for heavy horses and tough pony teams that can move several times their own combined weight, are a lesson in actual horsepower.

A horse shoeing contest on Labor Day, will be held under the direction of Michigan Horse Shoers Association. Judging will be based upon properly made and fitted shoes appropriate to breed of animal. Time limit of one hour is allowed to make one front show and nail it in place, and form one hind shoe to match—using the ferrisers own forge and anvil.

A summary of the 582 class Open Horse Show, with added attractions of pulling matches and special exhibits, should convince any admirer of the horses that Michigan State Fair is not only one of the nation's largest, but most all-inclusive expositions.

The shows are free to all general admission Fair visitors. General admission to the 1971 Michigan State Fair is $2 for adults, 50 cents for children over 12, children under 12 admitted free.

The 1971 Michigan State Fair, oldest in the nation at 122 years, is also the longest in the nation, running seventeen days from Aug. 26 through Sept. 12.

Queen sought by snowmobilers

The Michigan Marine & Snowmobile Dealers Association is seeking the state's most attractive 18-24 year old to serve as its 1971-72 Michigan Snowmobile Queen. With the title goes a check for $500, Don Stewart, Executive director of the organization announced.

The winner will reign during the nine-day Michigan Snowmobile and Winter Sports Show which opens at the West Eight Mile Armory (near Northland) on Saturday, September 11, and be invited to participate in various snowmobile promotions throughout the state during the 1971-72 snowmobile season.

Deadline for entries is Friday, Aug. 27. The competition is open to all single young women 18-24 years of age who are residents of Michigan. Entrants, according to Stewart, should send a photograph along with name, address and other pertinent information to: Michigan Snowmobile Queen Committee —Michigan Marine & Snowmobile Dealers Assn., 33300 West Warren Avenue, Westland, Michigan 48185.

A screening committee will reduce the number of entries to six finalists who will appear at the Detroit Press Club at Noon Monday, Aug. 30, where the final judging will take place.

Festival scheduled

The 19th annual Homecoming Labor Day Festival of St. Aloysius Catholic Church, 11280 Ozga Rd., Romulus, will be held Sept. 4 to Sept. 6.

Chicken or ham dinners will be served family style on Sunday, Sept. 5 from noon until 5 p.m. Spaghetti dinner will be served on Monday from noon to 5 p.m.

There will be booths, rides, games and excitement for all ages.

AUTO MECHANICS CLASS — An auto mechanics class for out-of-school youth, a federally-financed educational program, is to be conducted at Romulus Senior High School. The program has been extended for a period from Sept. 1 through June 30, 1972. William Smith (left), Community School director, watches student Ron Morris apply some of his newly acquired knowledge on a late model car.

Farmers should plan storage

Farmers should be making plans now to install needed grain storage and drying equipment, stated Nick Smith, Chairman of the Michigan State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Many farmers have increased their field mechanization more rapidly than their facilities for drying, handling and storing grain and as a consequence, find that they are unable to take care of the grain as fast as they can harvest it, he said. Producing quality corn for market requires more than just harvesting equipment. On-the-farm storage and drying equipment allows the farmer to harvest and store his grain at harvest time and then hold the grain to take better advantage of market prices, he said. Also, the producer is less likely to get caught in a transportation bottleneck at harvest time.

Regulations governing the Farm Storage Facility Loan Program administered by the ASCS has been changed to provide more assistance to farmers for a more orderly marketing of their commodities.

Recent changes in the program now allow the farmer to install a complete storage and handling system for high moisture corn as well as dry corn, he said. ASCS can now make loans to eligible farmers for conventional storage bins, silo-type structures designed for storage of wet grain, dryers, aeration equipment, augers, elevator legs, etc., Smith went on, making the program attractive to the grain farmer, the livestock feeder and the dairyman.

The state fair opened Aug. 27 and will close Sept. 2.

Also to the advantage of the farmer, Smith noted, is that the annual interest rate on these loans has been reduced from 7½ per cent to 6 per cent. This lower interest rate was made possible because of the lowering of the borrowing cost of money to the CCC. Smith also noted that the maximum loan allowable under the program has been increased from $25,000 to $35,000.

Smith stated that making loans to farmers needing grain storage and drying equipment on their farm is consistent with the U.S. Department of Agriculture's position in encouraging the development of on-the-farm storage and handling for today's agricultural commodities.

Farmers should be reminded, Smith stated, that Michigan weather records over a period of years show that we get approximately 30 days of reasonable corn harvest weather running from early October to early November and within that period, there is rain, Sundays and breakdown time. Therefore, Smith said, the farmers should be able to harvest, condition and store the crop in about half of the harvesting period or 15 days.

Smith emphasized that farmers needing additional grain storage or drying facilities and wanting to borrow money through the ASCS should contact their local county ASCS office immediately to determine their eligibility.

Smoking clinics fair feature

In a special booth located in the Community Arts Building, special "Mini Smoking Survival Clinics" will be conducted every hour on the hour. Trained volunteer counselors will be on hand to answer questions and work with individuals and their smoking problems.

The "Mini Smoking Survival Clinic" will feature a fifteen minute film, free counseling and a battery of four tests. The tests are designed to help you decide whether you want to give up smoking, to give you some understanding of the problems you might run into, and to provide some guidelines on how to meet these problems.

Everyone visiting the booth will also receive a free "Smoker's Survival Kit" to take home with them.

Ann Hope is bride

Colorado honeymoon follows August vows

In an afternoon ceremony Saturday at the North Prospect Baptist Church in Ypsilanti, Ann Hope became the bride of Floyd Gillespie, Jr. Double ring ceremonies were exchanged before the Rev. W.L. Shipman of Emmanuel Baptist Church, Belleville. Assisting with the nuptials was a friend of the young couple, Bruce Michaud, a theological student from Ypsilanti.

The two o'clock rite united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Hope of 180 E. Huron River Drive, Belleville, and the son of the senior Floyd Gillespies of 21195 Elwell Road, Belleville.

Roger Gillespie, who was his brother's best man, sang during the wedding, "We've Only Just Begun".

MRS. FLOYD GILLESPIE, JR.

ESCORTED UP the white-carpeted aisle by her father, Ann appeared in a toe-touching creation of white peau de soie designed in the empire mode with a scoop neckline and long, bishop sleeves with self buttons on the deep cuffs. Distinguishing the high-rise bodice and skirt were appliques of bridged lace studded with seed pearls.

The same lace was used to outline the little crescent Juliet cap which secured the bride's elbow-length veil of silk illusion. Completing her bridal finery was a cascade arrangement of white roses centered with red rose buds.

A close friend and former college roommate, Mrs. Bruce Michaud of Alexandria, Virginia, was asked to be matron of honor. Bridesmaids were another college friend, Mrs. Joseph Auffrey of Muskegon, and a close friend from high school days, Evelyn Giblin of Belleville, with the bridegroom's sister, Diane Gillespie, serving as junior attendant.

IDENTICALLY ATTIRED, the quartet donned navy blue linen frocks fashioned in formal length with high-rise bodices. White lace accented the oval necklines and short, puffed sleeves.

Their soft-brimmed white hats were made of nylon straw and were crocheted in an openwork design with high crowns. Their petite bouquets were comprised of miniature pink and white carnations, yellow daisies, red roses, bachelor buttons, and white mums with tendrils of variegated ivy.

Ushers for the ceremony were Earl Barringer of E. Lansing, the bridegroom's former college roommate, and Mike Skidmore of Saline, a long-time friend.

Prior to the reception in the Fellowship Hall of the church, the bride's mother received in a teal blue, polyester sheath with full chiffon sleeves and matching blue shoes. Her corsage of white sweetheart roses and stephanotis was interspersed with tiny blue flowers. Adding a similar corsage with yellow accents to her pale yellow ensemble was the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Gillespie.

MRS. A.R. LIEBELER, a close friend of the bride's family, presided at the punch bowl while Mrs. Lois Alford, Mrs. Peg Fogg and Mrs. Hope Derr, all friends of the Gillespie family, took charge of serving the wedding cake and coffee.

Some 125 guests from Miami, Florida; Alexandria, Virginia; Muskegon, Ypsilanti, Willis, Belleville, Garden City, E. Lansing, and neighboring cities congratulated the young couple.

The newlyweds are currently honeymooning in Colorado, having departed by plane the evening of their wedding. Both Ann and Floyd are recent graduates of Michigan State University. On September 7, Floyd will begin work in the U.S. Government's Postal Inspection Department in Chicago.

Brenda Clark weds in evening ceremony

Six attendants dressed in rainbow hues preceded Brenda Eileen Clark up the aisle of the First United Methodist Church of Ypsilanti August 14 as she approached her waiting bridegroom, Roger Edmund Pollack.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride was gown in white silk organza over taffeta, the empire bodice featuring a dropped round neckline enhanced with Venice lace. Lace was also used to form deep cuffs on the long, sheer sleeves and to edge the circular chapel train.

Her illusion veil was caught to a white satin headpiece and she carried a cascade arrangement of white orchids, stephanotis and green ivy.

FOR THE SIX THIRTY ceremony, the altar was appointed with bouquets of white chrysanthemums and snapdragons with clusters of white mums marking the main aisle pews.

Clergymen presiding at the double ring rite were the Rev. Kenneth Callis and the Rev. Harold Slater. Organist Mrs. Blaine Ballard played "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" for the processional and "Toccata" as the recessional.

Parents of the young couple are Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Clark of 41900 North Drive, Wayne, local business people who operate Clark Block and Supply, Belleville, and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Pollack of 34041 Standish, Westland.

As her cousin's maid of honor, Mrs. Rebecca Foley donned pink silk organza over taffeta fashioned in the empire mode with long sleeves and a scoop neckline. She wore matching ribbon in her hair and carried a bouquet of pink mums, roses, carnations and baby's breath.

In similar frocks of green, blue, yellow, and orchid was the quintet of bridesmaids: Mrs. Barbara Reynolds, Roberta Pollack, Mrs. Carol Hisey, Rhonda Clark, and Elaine Pollack.

Their bouquets were comprised of yellow roses, blue bachelor buttons, purple statice, pink mums, green carnations, and baby's breath.

Kenneth Pollack was his brother's bestman. Others on the esquire side were Bruce Greene, Paul Freibel, Doug Reynolds, Joel Clark, and Claude Gersky.

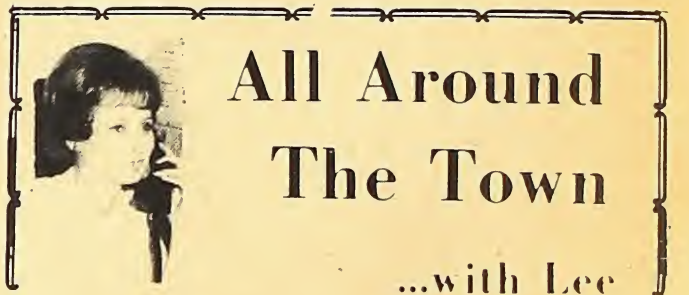

MRS. CLARK chose for her daughter's wedding a yellow chiffon formal gown with matching accessories while the bridegroom's mother was in a turquoise floor-length gown.

At the reception, which followed at Union Local 735 Hall in Ypsilanti, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Crockett assisted as hosts.

The rehearsal dinner, August 13 was held at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Paul Foust.

The Silver Lake-Ludington region was the honeymoon destination for the newlywed Pollacks who are now making their home at 844 Haggerty Road, Plymouth.

The bride will be a junior at Eastern Michigan University this fall. Her husband is employed at Clark Block and Supply, Inc., Belleville.

Mt. Rushmore highlights trip

BACK IN TOWN after a two weeks camping vacation in Iowa and South Dakota, Roger and Diane Ferguson have been busy looking over all the pictures they took of their trip. Leslie, Shawn and Shari, along the way. It was Leslie's idea to visit the Badlands where the most impressive part of the trip was the lighting ceremony which revealed Mount Rushmore to them for the first time.

Touring the Black Hills, they traveled 6,000 feet above sea level to the Coolidge Fire Lookout where they had a panoramic view of the area.

The carving of Chief Crazy Horse, a three-dimensional work which has been in progress for 20 years, was another highlight at Custer, S.D. They saw herds of buffalo, deer and mountain lions, and had a fun-filled experience feeding the wild donkeys that roam the roadways.

Also on their itinerary were Bedrock City and the Flintstones Storybook Land at Rapid City; the Reptile Gardens; and the Stone Church in the Hills, a reproduction of the original edifice, the interior being made entirely of hand-carved wood sculpture.

Crossing into Wisconsin, they toured the Pipestone National Monument where the Indians still work the quarries and make their famous pipestone pipes.

Arriving in Iowa, they spent the last part of their vacation with Diane's relatives before motoring homeward and chalking up a total of 3,218 miles.

AFTER ARRIVING home they took part in a surprise celebration honoring Roger's mother, Mrs. Fay Ferguson, on her birthday. Reservations for the event were made at Paul Bunyan's Restaurant near Ann Arbor where guests enjoyed a steak dinner.

Other well-wishers included the honoree's husband and also Richard Ferguson and daughter, Terri; Robert Ferguson and family; Jim and Marie Dozer from Ann Arbor; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Anderson of Ypsilanti; Art and Verdys Shephard; and Jim and Pat Shephard.

Later in the evening the group adjourned to the Fay Ferguson's Judd Road home to cap the festivities with the presentation of birthday gifts.

Former resident is convalescing

WE HEAR, via the grapevine from Florida, that Anthony Gielinski (a long-time resident of this area before his move southward) is in Boca Raton Community Hospital at the present time. Having undergone surgery on the 20th, he is now out of intensive care and convalescing nicely in Room 202-A (for those who'd like to drop him a 'hello').

Mr. and Mrs. Gielinski moved to Boca Raton several years ago from their home on W. Huron River Drive and now enjoy the presence of three of their daughters nearby - Jane and Don Dubisky and family and Eileen and William Merkel, all of Boca Raton; and Rose and Ray Gratoski of Lighthouse Pointe.

The remainder of the family in Michigan includes a daughter, Virginia, the wife of Romulus Mayor Hyle Carmichael; sons, Conrad and Bill, who reside in Westland and Higgins Lake, respectively, with their wives, Joanne and Helen; and son, Eddie, who's about to make the move from Belleville and join the southern portion of the clan in the Sunshine State.

Larimer-Tryon wed

Romulus music teacher is recent summer bride

Following a week-long honeymoon in New York City, the newly wed David E. Larimer took up residence at 13050 Princeton, Taylor.

Kathryn J. Tryon became Mrs. Larimer in a six o'clock ceremony July 17 at St. Paul United Church of Christ in Taylor. Double ring vows were exchanged before the Rev. Stanley R. Hartmann with some 130 guests in attendance.

Soloist for the occasion was Mike Dundas of Pontiac who sang "A Wedding Prayer" and "The Lord's Prayer" with organ accompaniment by Mrs. Larry Quiel of Romulus.

Kathryn, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse L. Tryon of 28350 Eureka Road, Romulus, was escorted to the altar by her father. The bride's gown made by her mother, was Victorian in style with a high neckline on the empire bodice and full lace bishop sleeves ending in deep cuffs. Hand-sewn appliques of Alencon lace were used to frost the silk organza skirt which drifted into a brief chapel sweep.

A PEAU DE SOIE boy held her French silk illusion veil which fell to elbow length and she carried a bouquet of daisies and baby's breath formed into a colonial bouquet.

The bride's college roommate, Pamela Hirsch of Coloma, was asked to be maid of honor. Her gown was fashioned with a turquoise bodice and purple and turquoise floral pant-skirt. A turquoise bow secured her wispy veil and she carried a basket filled with white daisies, purple asters and baby's breath.

Bridesmaids were Diane Tryon, the bride's sister-in-law from Romulus; and Candy Wonn of Romulus.

James B. Larimer, Jr. of Pittsburgh served as his brother's best man. Others on the esquire side were Paul Tryon, brother of the bride from Romulus; and William Hirsch of Coloma.

MRS. TRYON chose for her daughter's wedding a green shantung dress with jewel trim which had been made by the bride.

The bridegroom's mother donned a blue knit ensemble. Both mothers were presented with corsages of yellow roses. The Dearborn Inn was the setting for the reception which followed.

A graduate of Romulus High School in 1966, the new Mrs. Larimer earned her Bachelor of Music Degree at Michigan State University in 1970. She is currently teaching music in Romulus Community Schools.

Her husband, who affiliated with Delta Tau Delta Fraternity, was graduated from Ohio University in 1968 with a degree in business administration. He later spent two years with the U.S. army and is now employed as an auditor for Owens-Illinois in Toledo.

MRS. DAVID E. LARIMER

Marie Harris weds

St. John's, Ypsilanti, is scene of nuptials

The newly wed Ted Wingroves spent their two weeks honeymoon in Hawaii, California and Montana before taking up residence on Martinsville Road, Belleville.

Marie Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harris of 43825 Willis Road, Belleville, became Mrs. Wingrove in an August 14 ceremony at St. John's Catholic Church, Ypsilanti.

The five o'clock nuptials were read by the Rev. William King before an altar adorned with white gladiolas and white and yellow daisy arrangements. David Hagen, cousin of the bridegroom was soloist for the occasion accompanied at the organ by John Needham.

CARRYING A BOUQUET of cascading phalaenopsis orchids, stephanotis, baby's breath, and ivy, Marie walked up the aisle with her father. Her gown of white chiffon over bridal satin was distinguished by a cathedral-length train which was pulled up into a bustle for the reception. The little fitted bodice was designed with a high neck and long, puffed sleeves with Venice lace appliques at the cuff.

An openwork lace headpiece clasped the bride's bouffant veil of silk illusion which was cut in mid-back length.

Mrs. Dale Nowland of Plymouth was her sister's honor attendant in a navy blue gown trimmed with white lace and yellow velvet ribbon. The crown of her picture hat was encircled with daisies and she held a white antique kerosene - lit lantern decorated with cascading yellow and white daisies and tendrils of green ivy.

EXCEPT FOR the color of the ribbon on their hats and the lanterns they carried, which were yellow, the bridesmaids appeared in identical fashions. The trio was made up of Jill Gannon of Ypsilanti, a schoolmate of the bride; Mrs. Tom Wingrove of Ypsilanti, the bridegroom's sister-in-law; and Mrs. Bruce Gerber of Belleville, another of the bride's schoolmates.

As junior attendant, Denise Nowland of Plymouth, niece of the bride, wore a navy blue frock flocked with white daisies and carried a basket filled with white sweetheart roses, daisies and ivy.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wingrove of 815 Hemphill, Ypsilanti, asked his brother, Tom Wingrove of Ypsilanti, to be best man. The corps of ushers included Steve Krusel of Ypsilanti, a schoolmate; Dale Nowland of Plymouth, brother-in-law of the bride; and Dan Hagen of Ypsilanti, cousin of the bridegroom.

ROMA HALL was the setting for the reception which followed with some 200 guests attending. Mrs. Harris was dressed in a pink dress with white trim while the bridegroom's mother chose a mint green frock. Both added corsages of phalaenopsis orchids and stephanotis to their ensembles.

Terry Magyar took charge of registering the guests who included the bridegroom's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs.

K.R. Wingrove from Venice, Florida.

The rehearsal dinner, hosted by the Raymond Wingroves, took place at the Flaming Pit in Ann Arbor.

The new Mrs. Wingrove graduated from St. John's High School in 1970 and later attended Eastern Michigan University. Her husband, also an alumnus of St. John's, class of 1969, is currently employed by Delta Air Lines.

PASS IT ON

by L.M. Boyd

The old southern gentleman returned from the hunt with his dogs. They barked at the back door, hungrily. But the man's dinner came first certainly. To quiet down the dogs temporarily, the cook dipped little pieces of corn dough into hot fat, then tossed said tidbits to the hollering hounds. "Thus came we by the world 'hushpuppies,'" reports our Language man.

it's writ: "Ten measures of speech descended upon the world; women took nine and men one."...Purists will tell you the penny is a British coin, that there's no such thing as a United States' penny.

Which 10 movies of all time would you like to see again? In Forth Worth - Cowtown - a motion picture popularity poll was conducted among seasoned citizens who confessed to be film fans. The top 10 named were: 1. "African Queen," 2. "Gone with the Wind," 3. "Citizen Kane," 4. "Treasure of the Sierra Madre," 5. "Wuthering Heights," 6. "A Streetcar Named Desire," 7. "Rebecca," 8. "Casablanca," 9. "Ben-Hur," 10. "Lawrence of Arabia." Personally, could do without both "Streetcar" and "Lawrence." Would prefer "Dr. Zhivago" and "On the Waterfront."

Customer Service: Q. "Last year we had this pumpkin in the backyard. But a guy on a motorcycle knocked it loose from its roots. So my dad took a carpet needle and laced a long candlewick into the busted stem. He put the other end of the wick into a bottle of tonic water. And would you believe the darned pumpkin perked up and went on growing? A bottle-fed pumpkin! Ain't that the weirdest thing you ever heard?" A. It comes just awful close...Q. "Do dogs ever get tonsillitis or appendicitis?" A. Tonsillitis yes, appendicitis no.

Bless old Brahma, he loved love. Said he: "When the one man loves the one woman and the one woman loves the one man, the very angels leave heaven and come and sit in the house and sing for joy." Read the foregoing to the Ladyfriend and asked her to look at me closely and report if she heard any music. "Indeed," she said. "I hear Tennessee Ernie singing 'Sixteen Tons.'" Very humorous.

So you're under the impression mosquitoes like to bite you more than the other fellow? Maybe so, at that. The men of science now say that chemical in the human skin which most attracts mosquitoes is lactic acid. Certain soils are said to possess a super abundance of same. What's needed now is an anti-lactic-acid pill. Expect it.

Your questions and comments are welcomed and will be used in "Pass It On" wherever possible. Please address your letters to L.M. Boyd, P.O. Box 17076, Fort Worth, Texas, 76102.

CARROLL RIGHTER'S

Tomorrow's forecast from the Carroll Righter Institute

General tendencies: Start the day and the month right by attending to the little details of everyday living. This may be dull but important if you are to have a well-rounded understanding of getting ahead. The evening can best be spent relaxing and the use of clear thinking to build up a new sense of well-being.

Aries (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You can easily establish order around you, whether at business or at home. Take treatments to build up your vitality. Try not to get so excited as you have in the past. Show that you have wisdom.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) Study the details of entertaining you want to do and work them out properly. Do little tasks for mate that are a bit of a bore. You will be glad you did. Evening can then be a happy one for you.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) If you get into the specifics of plans and projects with others, you gain their goodwill. Use tact in solving a problem at home. Show that you have good, common sense and gain respect of others.

Moon children (June 22 to July 21) Don't discuss controversial subjects with associates and add to present goodwill you enjoy. Do whatever to make you feel healthier and stronger. Have a good time tonight with friends.

Leo (July 22 to Aug 21) If anything around your house is getting to be in a run-down condition, this is a good day to make proper repairs. Plan a more workable budget. Be sure the savings are more than the expenses.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Go to the beauty or barber shop early and improve your appearance for the busy times ahead. Plan social matters far into the future. Count the cost now and decide on how much to spend.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) With so many private duties to take care of, an early start will see you getting through them very well.

Then put abode in fine order. You can help a friend now who needs a helping hand.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Meet with good friends and discuss a project that means much to all. Come to a complete agreement. Attend the social affair if you wish to obtain the data you need. Show that you have wisdom.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Try to please a bigwig with whom you want to discuss a mutual project. See what can be done to improve your credit. Show that you are a clear-thinking person.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You have a clear mind now to expand your ambitions and give your fine abilities real purpose. Find the right associate to help you advance. Stop being so stubborn.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) If you need advice from an expert in a field that has to do with your project, this is a good day to get it. Be more willing to help mate and establish more harmony. Avoid any arguments.

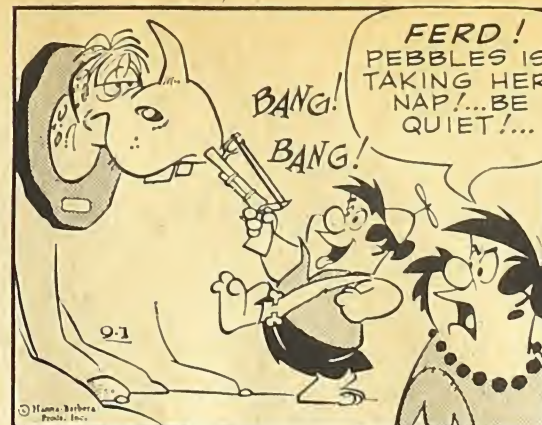

Pisces (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) If you support associates more, mutual benefits increase appreciably. One who opposes you can be quite petty but take it in stride. Think of how you can please your mate more.

If your child is born today he or she will be one of those very practical young people who can gain the respect of others because of this quality. Be sure to give duties to perform at home early in life and your progeny will become a most reliable individual. The field of investigation or of business is fine here, since there is ability at detail and punctuality in the nature. Give good religious training early.

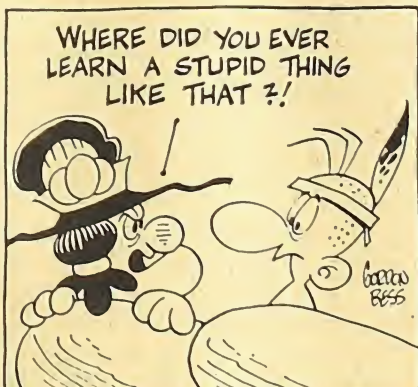

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you.

New leaders address education committee

Two new administrators of the Romulus Community Schools met with members of the Continuing Education Committee recently at the Romulus Board of Education offices.

The Continuing Education Committee has developed and proposed the afternoon and evening adult and out-of-school youth programs, as well as having made contacts with Wayne Community College for class offerings. They work closely with the State and Federal Coordinators office.

Joel Carr, Romulus Senior High School's new principal, spoke first, telling of his plans for a student, parent, teacher handbook that is to be mailed to the home of each high school student. The handbook, Carr said, would cover rules of conduct and discipline for infractions.

In connection with the evening programs, Carr expressed concern for better security in the parking areas. He pledged his support and cooperation to the committee.

William R. Smith, Community School director, who will administrate the programs conceptualized by the committee, began his duties a few weeks ago. Boy Scout Troop 1739, under the leadership of Scoutmaster Charles R. Kline, has returned from a one week stay at D bar A Ranch, the Michigan State Boy Scout Reservation.

Those in attendance were: Scouts Harvey Millar, Mike McCallum, Marco Hernandez, Keith Kraushaar, Glenn Millar, Tommy Kraushaar, and Dale Mullins.

The troop resided at the Chippewa Campsite taking advantage of the facilities and counselors present.

Harvey Millar passed his Pioneering, Cooking, Rifle and Shotgun merit badges, Paul Bunyon Axe and Knife award plus his Gun Safety certificate.

Mike McCallum passed Semphore with the rest of the troop getting advanced in campsite layout, compass, stars, axe and knife, camp cooking and camp maintenance.

All in all, it proved to be a worthy outing for the young troop that recently visited Washington, D.C. This past Easter Vacation.

During the one week outing at D bar A Ranch, the scouts had the opportunity to ride, swim, rifling, archery, and hike to Old Baldy Mountain plus seeing what a large Scout Campfire is really like.

In addition the troop invited several other camping troops over Thursday night for their own campfire affair, which proved to be enjoyable and different.

Scoutmaster Kline was asked by the scouts if they could go hunting. He permitted them to go on a snipe hunt beginning at 9 p.m., and ending when they got tired. However, no snipes were caught. Turtles, frog, toads and a variety of other animals and insects were brought back from the wilderness which Kline kept for his collection.

Hopefully, next year this

Scout Troop 1739 camps at D-A for week

troop outing for Boy Scout Summer Camping will be extended to two full weeks. Each scout received his D bar A patch.

During one of the nights the Scouts went to see what patch trading was like when an evening was set for this by the camp program.

Mr. S. contracted to have insulation installed in her home, but the work was never completed even though she paid the $325 as agreed.

When Mrs. S. was unsuccessful in getting action from the company she contacted the Michigan Consumers Council, a state agency which handles individual complaints. The Council persuaded the company to complete the job. However, during the process the hot and cold air vents in the heating system were plugged with insulation.

The Council then suggested that Mrs. S. have another contractor estimate the repair costs, and gave her information about small claims court where she could pursue the matter without a lawyer. She did take the matter to court, told her story to the judge, and recovered the $90 it took to correct the problems.

The annual summer picnic of Boy Scout Pack 739 of Romulus was held recently at Willow Park.

The festivities started with a picnic lunch at noon. An assortment of games was held during the day and trophies awarded the winners.

The afternoon programs were highlighted by a surprise birthday cake for Scoutmaster Fred Hall. Ice cream was furnished by the park.

Soon the scouts will be re-organizing for their winter activities and weekly den meetings.

The scouts who participated in the various programs at the camp with Scoutmaster Gene Gutierrez were:

Brian Shephard, Robert Middleditch, Mark Weis, Tim White, Gary Mayes, Phillip McAtee and Rodney Gilleland.

The young scouts worked on rank advancements and merit badges. Watermelons were the prizes won by the winning troop in various contests such as nature, collecting animals and physical fitness and waterfront. The scoutmaster special prize was a greased melon to be rescued from 20-feet of water.

Consumers Council answers complaints
